In Omnibus Excelsior

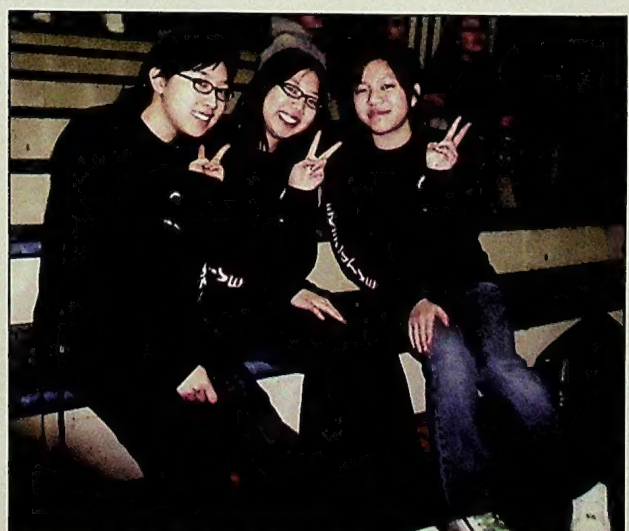

You don't have to look very far around Ainlay to see concrete proof of the school's motto in action. Students and teachers who are dedicated to achieving excellence "in all things" form the basis for Ainlay's amazing accomplishments academically and beyond. Students at Harry Ainlay strive for excellence in the classroom, on the field, and in the arts, but Titans know that true Ainlay spirit is about more than a measurement of how many A's are received or how many goals scored. It's about success of a broader kind: that which broadens borders and brightens lives. This is what truly makes high school some of the most important years in life.

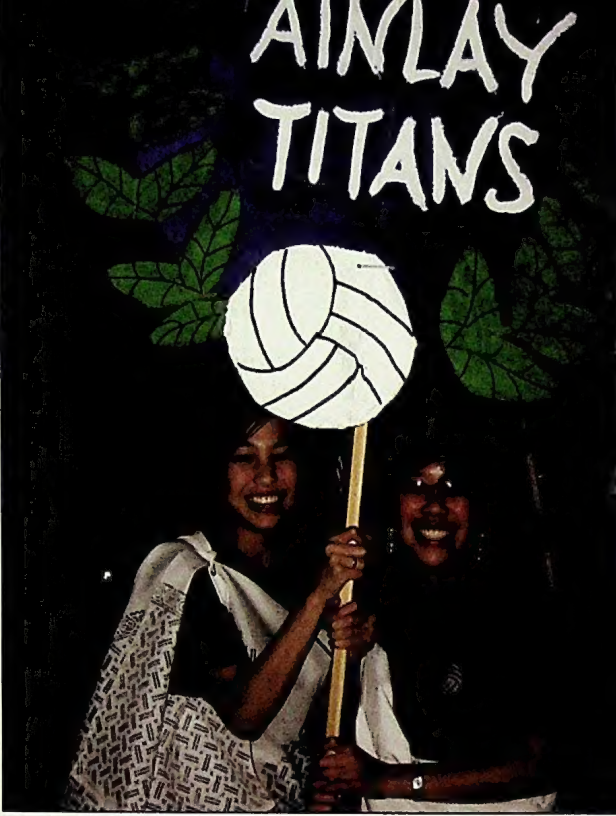

Titan Pride

Walk into any competition that pits Harry Ainlay students against those from other high schools, from Battle of the Bands to TVT and Tri-Prov, and it is immediately clear that Titans share an immense sense of pride in being representatives of such an outstanding school. Titan Pride also has a habit of popping up at charitable events all over Edmonton, where Titans are out there representing Ainlay and making wonderful things happen in the community. It is this sense of pride that truly brings everyone in the Titan family together, and it produces the kind of reputation that we can all be proud of.

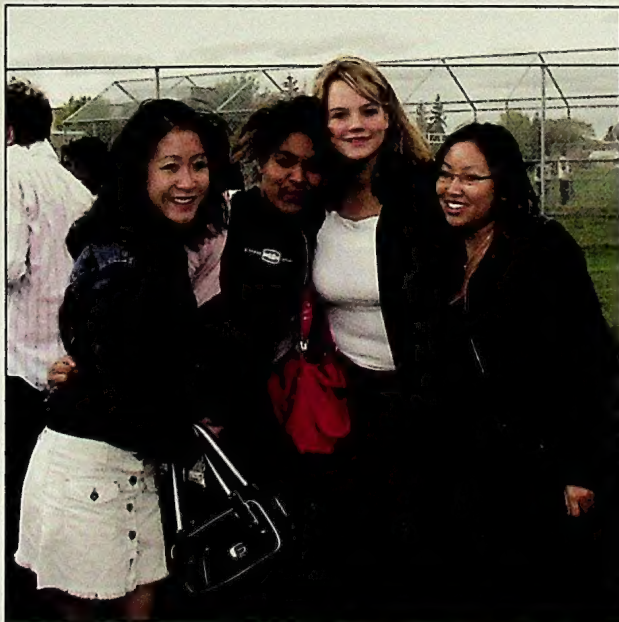

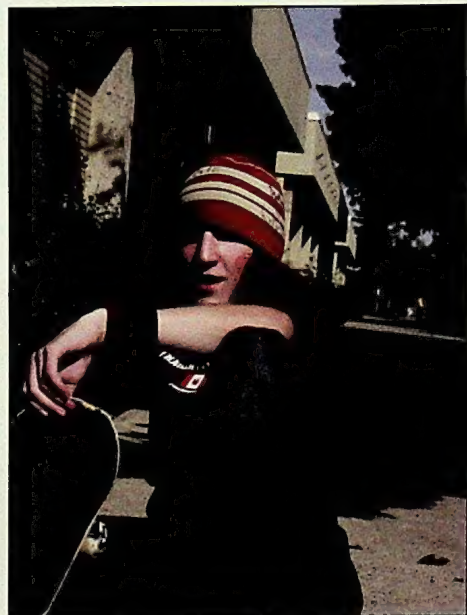

AINLAY TITANS

Inside Ainlay

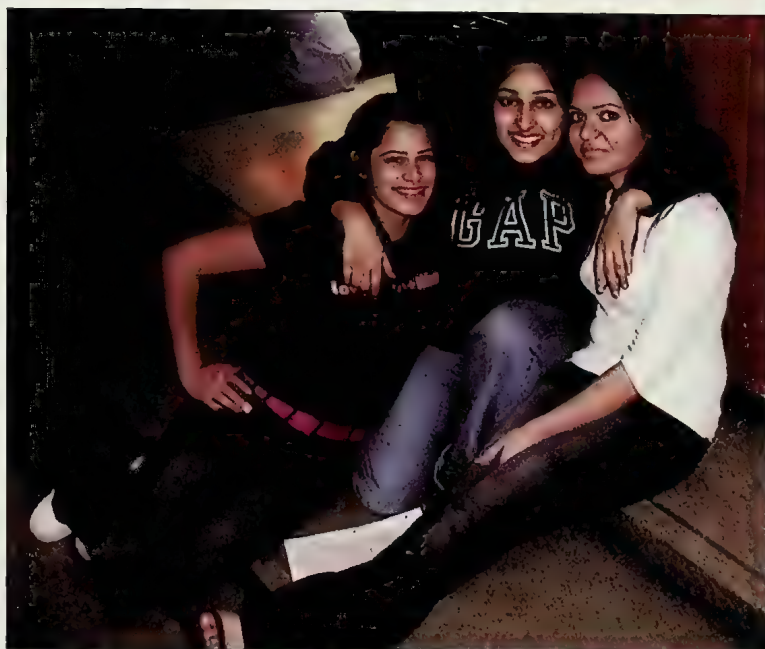

Whether through choice or routine, we all know that during our three years at Ainlay it somehow becomes more than an institution designed to hand us a diploma at the end of our turmoil. It's a community, supporting incredible events, fundraisers, teams, friendships...the list goes on. So what's the secret to the incredible sense of community inside Ainlay? Its the sense of fellowship that continues to take precedence in this huge, windowless building year after year, generation after generation.

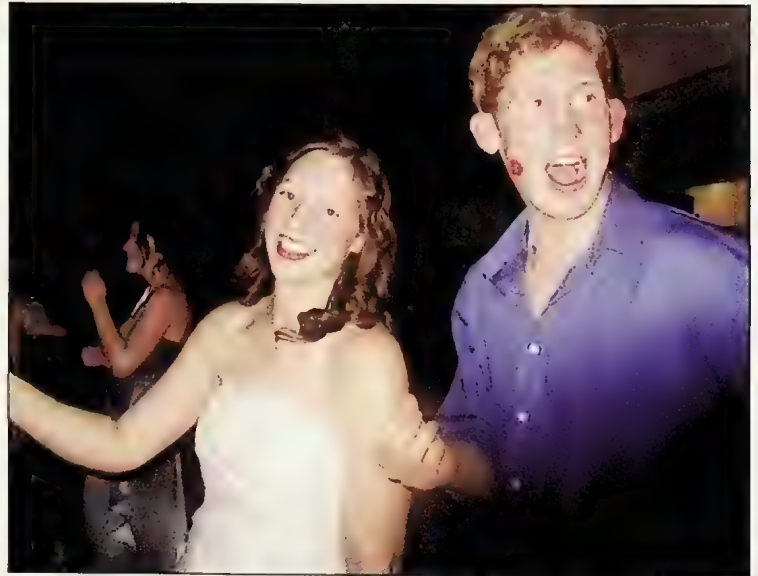

Titan Friendships

Although passing math and amassing a college resume are important aspects of the "high school experience," anyone who's been there and done that knows that another invaluable asset comes from being stuck in a classroom for ten months with thirty random strangers: the close-knit friendships it produces. Of course, our friends are the people we play practical jokes on, the people we cram for tests with, and our partners for the junk food runs some of us go on every single day. They are also our teammates, classmates, lifelines and confidantes: some of the most important people in our lives.

...More Titan Friendships ★

Student Life

What's Harry Ainlay's secret to success in being one of Edmonton's largest high schools? It's the incredible diversity of the students. Whether our days are packed with a million clubs, sports teams, and other activities, or we're more content to spend after-school hours jumping skateboard ramps or catching movies, Titans chill as one big family when it really matters. From that early morning muffin in the cafeteria to the after-school cram sessions in the library, student life at Ainlay is the part of the Titan experience that helps students walk away from high school with so many fond memories.

Student Activities

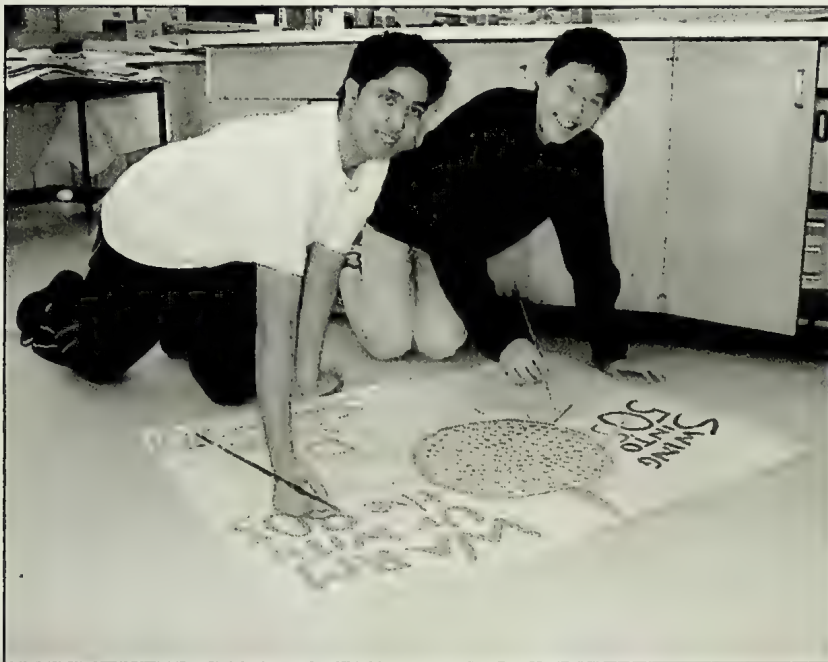

Ten months of the same classes day in and day out can get to be a bit dull. That's why, thanks to Student's Union, there are constant activities being showcased in the rotunda to help us beat the boredom. From events such as karaoke and musical chairs on the first week of school, to Ainlay's annual post-secondary institution showcase, culturefest and the Christmas gingerbread house decorating contest, our school's indented centre regularly plays host to a congregation of smiling Titans. With the sound system cranked up and the festivities underway, it's easy to forget about that math midterm 7th period-for a few minutes, anyways.

Students' Union

Wow! This year has sure flown by in a whirlwind of events! Your Students' Union has worked hard in order to make your high school experience as memorable as possible. This year's theme, S.T.A.R.S: Students/Staff Together Achieving Real Success, encouraged the whole school to work together and to get involved with student activities. Without the amazing students and staff of Harry Ainlay, events such as TVT, Tri-Prov, Culture Fest, and Touch of Class would not have happened. Memories were formed as the school participated in events such as the weekly rotunda activities, Halloween week, and Aloha Ainlay. Our community felt our Titan pride as we reached out beyond our school walls in events such as the Junior High Leadership Conference, A Walk Around the World, and the Food Bank and Turkey Drive. Each year, Harry Ainlay never fails to display its bank of talents and gifts in all area. The dedication of students and staff is what makes Ainlay truly what it is. I am always proud to say I am a Titan!

Over the past three years, I have come to truly realize what an amazing school Harry Ainlay is. The students and staff I have had the privilege to work with surprise me consistently with their gifts and talents and it is because of these people that I will look back at my high school experience with fond memories. I have grown to love our school, obviously not the actual windowless building but the people and the activities that happen within its walls, and I want to thank you for allowing me to serve you as Students' Union President. Being your President has been one of the best experiences of my life so far and I hope that you have enjoyed all the activities we organized. When you look back thirty years from now, I hope you are able to smile and laugh at all the fun times you had and realize that you are still a Titan. I wish you all the best in everything you do. Cheers!

Principal's Message

At the beginning of the 2004-05 school year, our Students Union Chose the acronym STARS, "Students and Teachers Achieving Real Success," for all of us to strive towards. As we look back, we can do so with incredible pride in our collective efforts towards this goal. Harry Ainlay, on a daily basis, lives up to its motto "In Omnibus Excelsior - in all things excellence."

All of you, in one way or another, have been involved in the very life of this school and have made it a better place to be for all of us. From your very first day in Grade Ten, when the Link Crew introduced you to our school, you became Titans. This will be your link to this school now and in the future. As Titans, you are members of a much larger community and, as such, have responsibilities to be life long learners, responsible members of your communities, seekers of excellence and persons of good character. It is also a commitment to your fellow students to ensure that the proud traditions of Harry Ainlay continue.

Looking through the following pages, you will find memories of your time at Harry Ainlay: friends, the trials and tribulations of becoming adults and of the struggles and conquests you have had. Most importantly, as you look back, you will see the formative years of your life and the path to the varied successes all of you will achieve.

Your years at Harry Ainlay have left you prepared for the next stages of your life. Whatever you choose or whichever path you follow, do so with commitment, passion, enthusiasm and effort. To do so will honour all that you have done at Harry Ainlay.

Sincerely,

Mark Liguori

Amnesty International

*A*mnesty International Social Club at Ainlay works to encourage, educate and promote human rights. Through letter writing campaigns and forums, awareness is raised. Very successful fundraising campaigns for victims of the hurricanes in the Caribbean and the tsunami in Asia saw the Ainlay community come together to help those in need. This club is a tremendous opportunity for students to take a leadership role in creating positive change. After all, the slogan of Amnesty says, "It is better to light a candle than curse the darkness."

S.A.D.D. Club

*T*he Students Against Drinking and Driving Club has members from across Alberta. We are part of a nationally known organization: National Youth Against Impaired Driving. Drinking and driving is killing millions of innocent people. The youth of Canada feel something needs to be done about it. Throughout the year we host events to help promote the message "friends don't let friends drink and drive." We attend a provincial and national conference each year to receive leadership training. It's an awesome experience meeting police officers, paramedics, and people our own age from all across the country! Thanks to everyone for helping out with events this year, and especially to Mr. Jean-Proulx for being our tireless advisor!

Good luck to everyone in the future. See you all next year!
 Harry Ainlay SADD President
 ~Justine Dawson

Link Crew

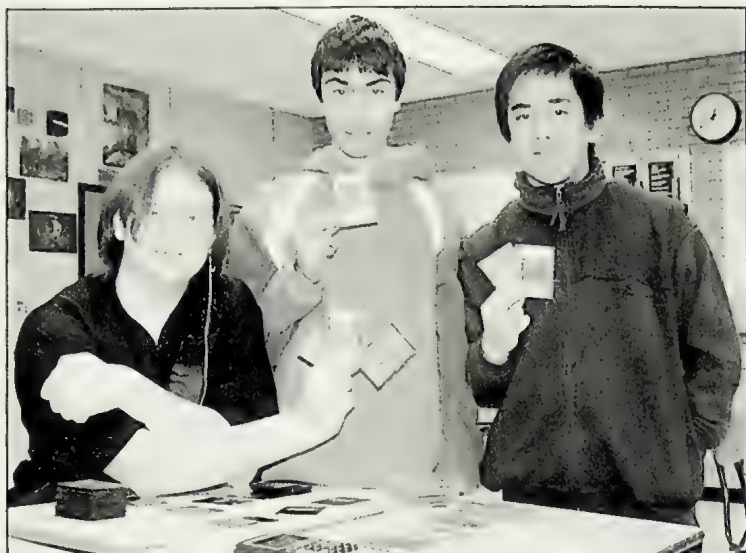

The Link Crew team was the orientation group who welcomed over 700 new grade 10 Titans to the 2004-2005 school year. The Executive was made up of an amazing group of students who worked hard to pull off a super organized and fun orientation day. While the executive dashed about trouble shooting with their walkie-talkies, link crew leaders led their groups in games and activities to assist them in a smooth transition to high school. We also couldn't have done it without our A-team, who worked behind the scenes, and our dream team who maximized school spirit. Overall, the entire event was a huge success.

Ainlay Ambassadors

As a student-run group dedicated to helping out within the school and the community we worked on two major projects this year. The first project, "Carol for a Cause," was a carolling event designed to raise money for a holiday charity of our choice. The charity of choice for this year was 630 CHED Santa's Anonymous. By going door-to-door on December 4th and 5th in the Malmo and Riverbend areas, the Ainlay Ambassadors successfully raised over $300! In mid-March, we organized a World Vision "30-Hour Famine" and over a thousand dollars was raised. During this particular event, Titans refrained from eating for a period of thirty hours to empathize with the children that live in under-developed countries. The success of the 30-Hour Famine was celebrated with a Titan pancake breakfast. Thanks to Ms. Ferris for letting us use her room for our meetings and to all the enthusiastic students who were willing to use their time, energy and dedication to proudly represent Harry Ainlay in our community!

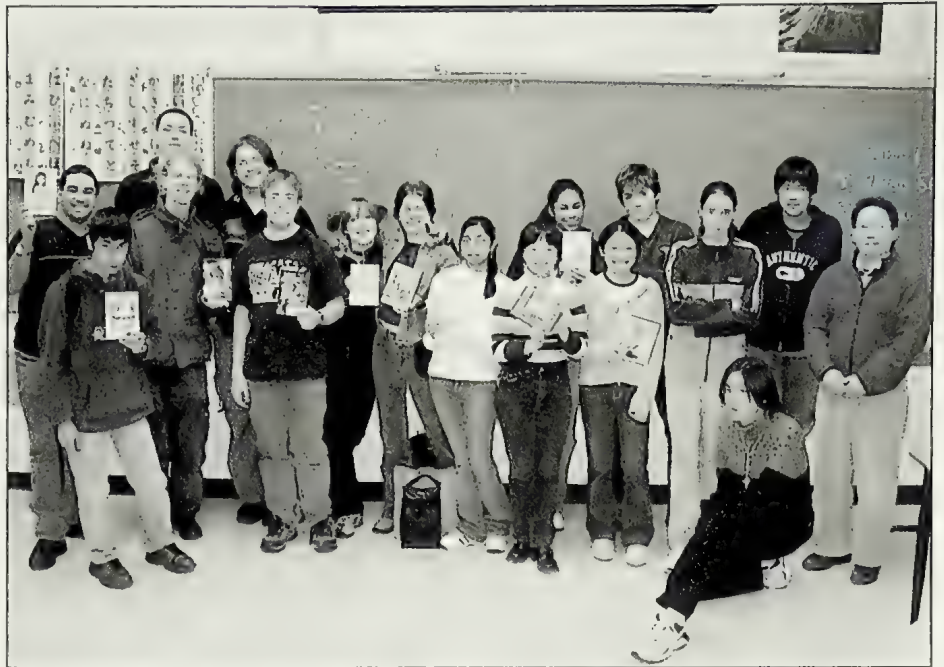

Chess & Games

Every day at noon, the students belonging to the Chess and Games Club got together from the beginning of September to the end of June - even during exam weeks! This club caters to a very diverse range of interests: chess, Chinese chess, Go, video games and card games of all types. A great way to de-stress!

T.A.N.E.

Anime, pronounced in English "AH-nee-may," is Japanese animation; similar to American cartoons, it revolves around different themes and characters, sometimes archetypal, sometimes based on real people and situations, and sometimes without any basis in reality whatsoever. Contrarily, however, the landscapes tend to be more detailed and realistic, while only the faces of the characters leave an impression of "cartoonness," their bodies portraying realistic characteristics. Also, while American cartoons tend to be aimed mainly at children, Anime more frequently targets young adults and older youth. TANE, the Titan Anime Network of Edmonton, aims to promote appreciation of this art form through weekly showings and occasional contests. We currently have about 40 members registered, many of whom are improving their Japanese oral interpretation skills simply by hearing native speakers interpret a script. Blair Semple : TANE President

Origami

Origami is the beautiful Japanese art of paper folding. The Origami Club meets on Wednesdays at lunchtime in Mrs. Ito-Fedrau's room, Rm 331, to fold animals, flowers, and various geometric shapes. Members also work together on group projects to create intricate ornaments. Origami club provides the opportunity to learn a great art, relax, and have fun!

Citadel Club

Harry Ainlay is pleased to be an important part of the Citadel Theatre Students' Club. This year our membership has grown to forty-two participants. As well as viewing the production, the evening consists of complimentary snacks and refreshments, a preshow demonstration or interactive forum, and an opportunity to engage in meaningful dialogue with actors. This club is an excellent opportunity to enjoy theatre, interact with the professional theatrical community, and meet new people. We anxiously await the next season!

Encounters with Canada

Encounters With Canada is a program that brings high school students from across the country together to share in debate, discussion, and friendship. Sessions focus on arts and culture, law, international relations, journalism, business, science and technology, sports, and history and remembrance. This year seventeen students from Harry Ainlay traveled to Ottawa to the Terry Fox Centre. Participants: Tim Griffith, Avi Nanda, Shahil Gupta, Shawn Kerr, Zachary Selman, Jonathon Taves, Susanna Ogle, Mandy Wan, Jaimi Reese, Elaine Hoekstra, Claudia Gasior, Navpreet Layal, Dennis Goulden, Zassim Hirani, Karley Lawlor, Ben Lau and Liana Tiriac.

Titans International

*T*I stands for Titans International. This club is organized by a group of highly dedicated student leaders who are interested in spending time on organizing activities for the international students. The goal (purpose) is to let these students, who are newcomers to Canada, feel a little bit more comfortable about themselves at Harry Ainlay. Throughout the year we organized a variety of activities, such as a Welcome Barbecue, Christmas party and mini sport competitions for the International and ESL students at Harry Ainlay High School.

Speech and Debate

*T*his year, the Speech and Debate Club attended many tournaments, including the ever-so-interesting Lois Hole, Churchill, and Gandhi Tournaments. Harry Ainlay was well represented by our articulate, knowledgeable members, and we hope to have an even better turnout next year. Thanks to Ms. Carson, President Reena Herian, and Vice President Andie Bains, for all their hard work.

Dance X-treme

DX is a brand new extra curricular club comprised of talented, hardworking dancers. Choreographers are Krysta Linneberg and Helen Chiang. Dance genres include: Hip-hop, Break Dancing, Modern, Jazz and some elements of Ballet. DX performed at Tri-Prov and other special events within the school. It has been a tremendous success.

Knitting Club

The Knitting Club is a place where anyone who wants to can come Friday at lunch hour and learn to knit, crochet, or work on their current knitting or crochet projects. Our major project this year is a blanket for the Edmonton Youth Emergency Shelter.

Presidents: Veronica Krawlewicz and Emily de Caen.
Vice President: Anna Babaytseva. Members: Natasha Rajan, Adrienne Coffin, Jessica Wy, Josephine Wong, Diana Song, plus a few anonymous members.

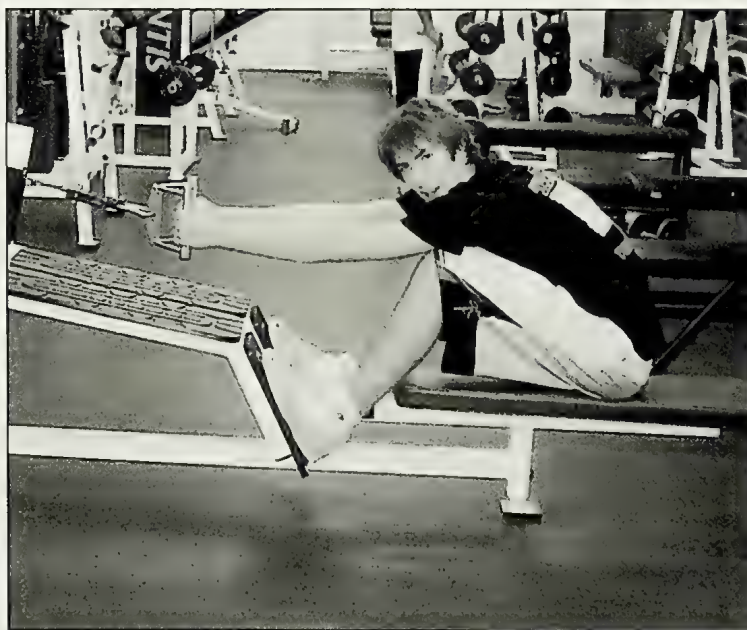

Wellness Centre

Powered by Kwantum Inc. for a third consecutive year, the Wellness Centre has continued to reach out to the students and staff of Ainlay, focusing on a multi-dimensional approach to health and fitness.

Based on the "Seven Dimensions of Wellness", the Wellness Centre has helped many students and staff members reach their fitness goals, while learning more about nutrition, safety, social and emotional well-being and more.

This year's Motivational Challenge was the most successful one to date in motivating individuals to get active and live a healthy lifestyle. It expanded into an inter-school competition with Salisbury and Strathscona. Ainlay won by a landslide. Our membership numbers have continued to grow to a remarkable 500 members, so along with the PE classes and athletes up here, the Centre has been humming. With that said, we're looking forward to seeing you all up in the Wellness Centre in the Fall!

School Reach

School Reach, or Reach for the Top, is a national tournament in which high school teams compete in general knowledge trivia. Questions can be on everything from Nobel Prize winners to the latest celebrity couples. The 2004/2005 school year is off to a great start as the Ainlay School Reach team has been playing well in all of its games and will hopefully continue to do so. Our members bond together and have fun in weekly meetings and make new relations at tournaments. We hope to go all the way and make Ainlay proud. Good luck to this year's talented team!

Hollywood History Movie Club

This year the Hollywood History Movie Club met during lunch hour on Wednesdays and Fridays to watch a wide selection of films. From Das Boot, a movie about the German U-Boats during WWII to Elizabeth, the biopic of Queen Elizabeth I of England, members enjoyed lively debate and humorous discussions after each movie. History is something that we can use as a tool to understand why we live the way we do today and this club is a fun and interesting way to experience history.

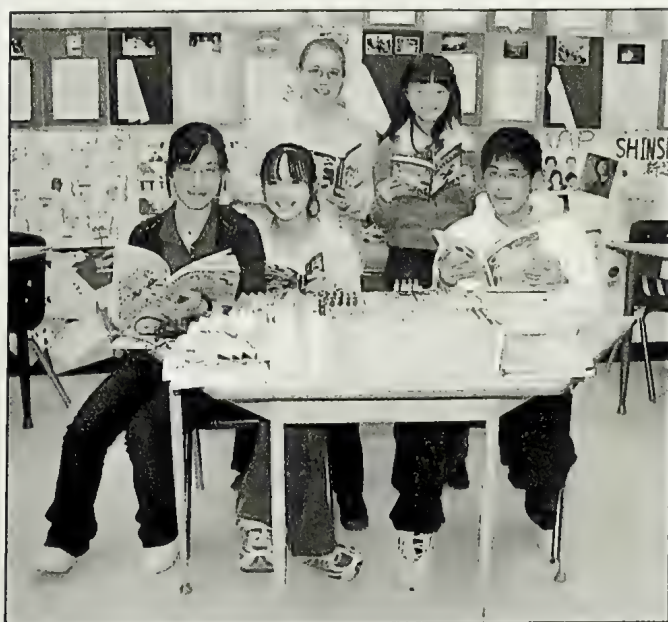

Titanic

With any school of almost 2500 students, you're bound to get at least a few avid writers in the mix. They come together at the Harry Ainlay Titanic, our school's very own student-run newspaper. A testament to the diversity at Ainlay, the Titanic covers everything from cartoons and movie reviews to opinions on school events and world politics. With a range of (very) opinionated writers and styles on board this Titanic, there's something for everyone.

Manga

Members gathered once a week on Fridays during lunchtime in room 331. We drew many characters and a variety of scenes in Manga books. We shared our resources to read and look for good pictures for drawing. All finished works were laminated for display. The atmosphere was always relaxed, and everyone interested was welcomed.

Model UN

This United Nations simulation is the most realistic model assembly held in Edmonton, and allows students to experience international relations from the inside of the Security Council and several of the specialized committees of the General Assembly. Ainlay sent its largest contingent ever to the HSMUN this year - 47 students! They represented a variety of countries including Honduras, Lebanon, Thailand, Italy, Algeria, Romania, Singapore, Israel and the United States. Our delegates debated topics ranging from the Israeli security fence to the supply of fresh water in developing countries. All performed with distinction, but five received special recognition from their committees including Aaron Rankin, Aditya Anchuri, Jainesh Bali, Carleen Ready, and Adil Afzal.

SUNIA

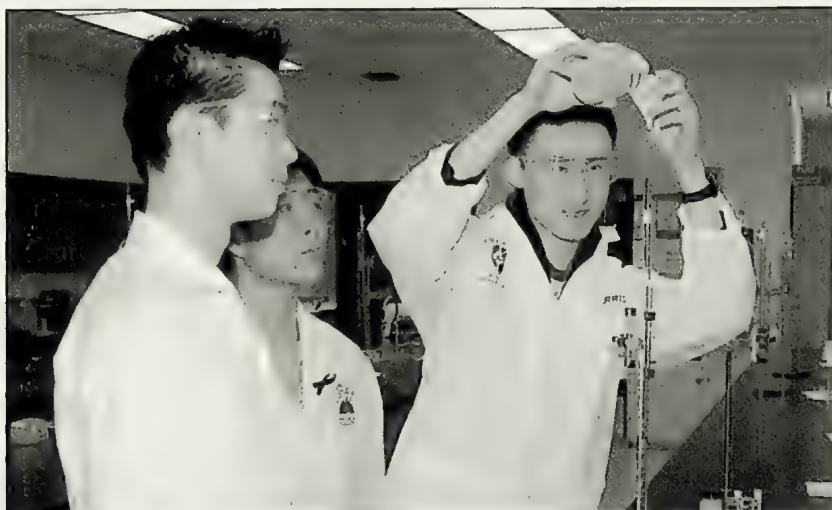

SUNIA, or the Seminar on the United Nations and International Affairs, is an annual student conference held at the Goldeye Centre, a scenic lakeside facility 100 km west of Rocky Mountain House, Alberta. For those among us for whom international politics is a passion, SUNIA provides a great opportunity to bond with other likeminded people in Alberta's great outdoors. Not simply a five-day lecture, the program involves a simulated meeting of the UN, as well as small seminars and lots of heated discussions! With sessions being led by representatives from the UN, the Canadian Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, and the Canadian Department of National Defense, SUNIA is sure to be as exciting as always for those attending in 2005.

The 2005 Science Olympics Team - "Brains instead of brawn" is the name of this game. Building soapbox cars powered by gravity, constructing batteries out of orange juice, and protecting an egg from a falling can of tomatoes by using spaghetti and glue are just some of the challenges that the science Olympic team had to engineer solutions for this year. Go Titans!

Science Olympics

Aventis

On April 24 and 25, 2005, this team of Harry Ainlay students put their scientific imagination and skills to the test in this annual science competition that asks students to design and carry out experimental research in biotechnology. The work was the culmination of their efforts that began in November, 2004 with their mentor being Dr. Mike James. Their research focused on the effect of substances, specifically polyphenols, on human breast cancer cells. Since polyphenols are found in grapes and other foods, the research has implications regarding diet and cancer. Ainlay Team members: Daniel Chow, James Huang, Peter Wong

Titan Tradition Yearbook

Look really hard at any Harry Ainlay event and you can usually spot them: yearbook photographers and writers, gathering the snippets of time needed to sew together the 208-page time capsule that is the Titan Tradition. Meanwhile, deep in the bowels of room 140, student volunteers work tirelessly, piecing together pages, writing captions, blending, buffing and making the yearbook come together for a (usually) seamless finish. From Tri-Prov and TVT to Touch of Class and Grad, it's all here, Ainlay-and it's all for you!

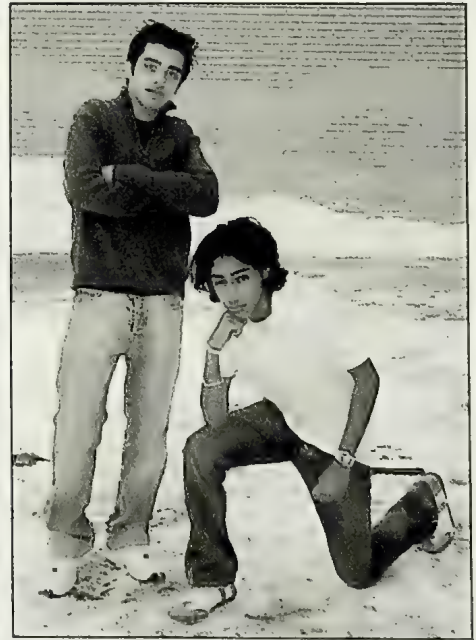

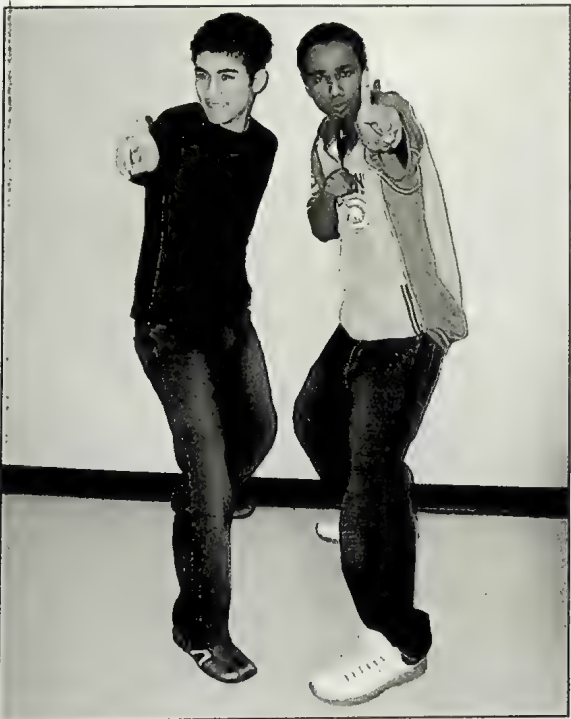

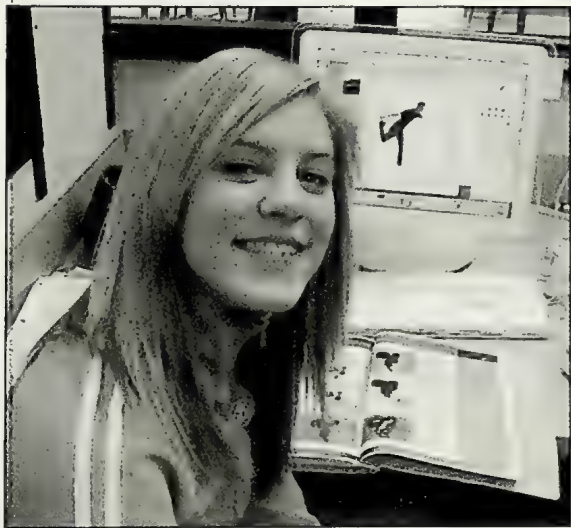

Senior Editor: Laurence Jayawardane
 Co-Editors: Arielle deJong and Michael Tang.
 Copy Editor: Jacalyn Ambler
 Yearbook Staff Advisor: Mr. Wright

SPORTS

Senior Football

Senior Football had a very successful year. They finished the season with 4 wins and 3 losses. The team was ranked at #7 in the province for a few weeks. They accomplished a lot considering that the team consisted almost totally of grade 11 players. The team eventually lost in the playoffs to the #5 ranked Ross Sheppard.

The Harry Ainlay Junior Titan Football Team had a successful season, with the team once again making it to the playoffs. The players worked hard and showed devotion to the game and their team mates. Even though they were knocked out of the finals by Parkland, these Titans played one of their best games of the season making it an exciting game to watch. They will be a welcome addition to the senior team next year.

Senior Women Volleyball

Congratulations to the Sr. Women for success during the 2004 volleyball season. The pressure was on from the start as the Titans entered 2004 as the returning city champions. They handled the pressure admirably and romped through both the seeding and ability rounds undefeated. Three schools suffered similar play-off fates as the Titans remained undefeated and won a second consecutive title with a 3-0 victory over Scona in the city final. The women were proud to be one of four winning Titan teams that defined the success of the Volleyball program. The Vancouver trip remained a season highlight as the Titans struck west coast gold. Several other tournament appearances included our own TVT, the U of A and Sal. Their season concluded with a bronze medal performance at the 4A Provincials in Sherwood Park. Congratulations on taking cities yet again!

Chris Gardentis, Kjell Reid, Mr. J. Lerbekmo (Coach)

This year's team reached an impressive milestone. The team won it's 10th consecutive City Championship title. This year's team worked very hard right to the end of the season to put themselves in a position to attend provincials as the #1 Edmonton seed. The hard work paid off as the team attained well earned victories in the provincial round robin play, but took a tough and unfortunate loss in the quarter finals. Although the teams ultimate goal was not reached, it wasn't from a lack of effort. The team will be remembered for it's City Championship title and most importantly keeping the high standards alive for future teams.

City Champions!

As another volleyball season came to an end, it was one that the Junior Men will always remember. It was an outstanding year both on and off the court. The team was able to develop numerous new skills, refine old ones, build new friendships and strengthen ones from years gone by. A near perfect league season ended with only one loss and the junior men capturing the city championship by defeating the Ross Sheppard Thunderbirds three games to none. The junior men made a statement by achieving silver at the Salisbury (Sherwood Park) and Western Canada (Calgary) tournaments and continued it by winning gold at Jr TVT and The Lindsay Thurber Invitational (Red Deer).

Junior Women

City Champions!

Front Row: Bethany Enge, Christina Mah, Alexandra Melynychuk, Erin Walsh, Jill Young

From the start to their final success in the city championships, the Junior Women's team of grade tens came together and showed mental and physical toughness. Throughout league play they were undefeated. They started off with a third place finish in the Western Canada Tournament. As the season progressed, the strength of their team not only grew but also their determination. They took the silver in the Salisbury Saber Tournament. For most of the team, TVT was the highlight of the season: pulling through to take revenge on the Lindsay Thurber Raiders after being unsuccessful in the final of the Salisbury tournament, the team won the gold medal. They pulled it together and defeated Thurber 2-1. As they went to Red Deer they knew what they had to do but fell short in the finals after losing to E.P. Scarlett. After capturing the silver in their last tournament they were determined to be first in the city. With this goal in mind they became City Champions defeating Spruce Grove 3-0. All in all it was an amazing season and will never be forgotten.

Golf Team

Women's Golf

*K*arla Klapstein, Seo Jin Lee, Brittany Gooz and Laurel Whiting, represented Harry Ainlay in September 2004, at the Edmonton Zone Golf Tournament in Stony Plain. Their team score placed them 9th out of 19 schools. Well done Ladies.

Men's Golf

*T*he 2004-05 Harry Ainlay Men's Golf team, was chosen by a try-out tournament the first week of September, at River Ridge Golf Course. Rain shortened the tournament to nine holes. Three members of last year's team remained on the team with 9 hole scores of 35 (Justin Delong), 36 (Dustin Cheong), and 39 (Daniel Fortier). They were joined by new comer Chris Lastiwka (39). The handicaps of these four golfers with 3, 4, 5 and 6 respectively, looked promising for the team for the two fall tournaments. Unfortunately the next week, the annual Fort Saskatchewan Golf Tournament at Goose Hummock was snowed out.

Cross Country Team

*T*he Ainlay Cross-country Team had its biggest turnout in a long time with over 30 runners competing and many others practicing with the team and making running a part of their lifestyle. Coaches Sr. Cowen, D. Holt, B. Luchkow and C. Hernandez were pleased to see Jennifer Soderberg, David Falk and Warren Bohm qualify for a very chilly Provincials in Wetaskiwin.

The Titan Cheer team is made up of a group of 20 female athletes in grades 10 - 12. Most of these athletes began training with the team in the spring & summer months and began the cheer season in September. The Cheer team attended all Senior Football games and participated in the opening ceremonies of both TVT and Tri-Prov. The Titans had a successful competitive season this year, placing second at the J.Percy Page Invitational, second at the City Championships and reclaiming their title as the Provincial Champions. The team went on to win their fourth consecutive West Edmonton Mall Invitational and also won the Grand Championship at the same event, beating out all other teams of the day, including the co-ed squads. The team travelled to the PCA National Championships in Toronto, Ontario in April to compete against teams from across Canada and brought back the National Championship trophy and banner!

The Titan cheer team worked hard all year; they practiced three times per week and met for two morning workouts per week as well. They are fit, strong and talented and were very proud to represent Harry Ainlay!! The athletes and coaches would like to extend a sincere THANK YOU to all the students and staff who supported the team throughout the year. The remaining team members would like to extend a special thank you to the graduating veterans and wish them much future success!

Wrestling

The Harry Ainlay Wrestling team had another successful year. After training from November to February, the team competed in City Finals and qualified 8 athletes for the Provincial Championships, where Katrina Heschel won the Provincial Bronze Medal in her weight class. The team was once again coached by Brian Corbett and Charles Relland. Congratulations on a wonder season!

Badminton

This was a tremendous season for this year's badminton team. The team finished the regular season in first place and won the Silver Medal at the City Championships. Following this, we had many of our players qualify to attend provincials. The season culminated with our team tying for the 4-A Provincial Championship! This group proudly represented Ainlay as a team of both great skill and great character. Congratulations to a great group of athletes.

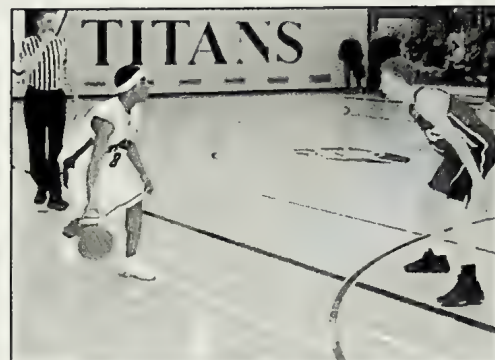

Silver Medalists at City Championships and Provincial Champions!

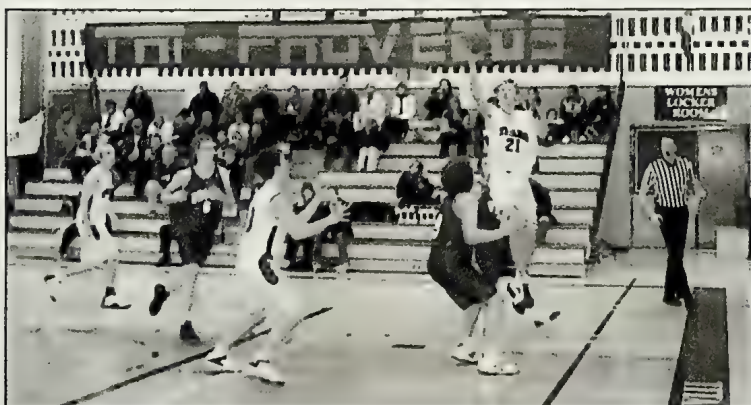

Senior Men's Basketball

 Back Row: Mr.R.Poole (Coach), Dan Smetaniuk, Steve Kennedy, Stephan Burke, Matthew Gardoza, Jon Goodkey, Josh Pemberton, Trevor Flexhaug (Manager)
 Missing: Mr.D.Holland (Coach), Mr.B. Miciak (Coach), Mr. R. Pease (Coach)

Ranked in the top ten teams in Alberta all season, the Titans were one of the top teams in the province. Led by shooters Judd Payne and Jon Goodkey, the Titans peaked at the 4A Provincial Championships capturing the Bronze medal. Regarded by many to be the top defensive team in Alberta, the Titans finished as the top team in the Edmonton Public League. Highlights this year were victories over the Ross Sheppard Thunderbirds and a strong showing at the 4A Provincial Championships. Of significant note, Mr. Poole was the first to receive the Thom Elinski Coach of the Year Award in High School Basketball.

Senior Women's Basketball

The Senior Women's Basketball team enjoyed another successful season with 4 returning players to lead the way. The team relied on their athleticism, quickness and deep bench to win the Tri-Prov and Victoria Redmen tournaments. Many coaches around the province agreed this was the most athletic women's basketball team they had seen in years. One of the seasons' highlights was defeating a team from Germany led by two national calibre athletes. The Titans finished second in the city championships and placed fifth at Provincials. Congratulations on another great year!

The 2004 - 2005 Junior Women's Basketball team had another outstanding season. From start to finish the team worked extremely hard, and showed tremendous strength of character in the pursuit of their goals. Each day the team's enthusiasm and commitment helped to improve both individual and team skills. The team competed in a number of top level tournaments, winning the gold medal at Lindsay Thurber and the silver medal at Tri-Prov and E.P. Scarlett basketball tournaments. In a hard fought City final, and with unbelievable heart, the team won the silver medal at the City Championships. Congratulations to all team members for their outstanding efforts!

Junior Men's Basketball

Backrow: Arjun Suresh, Dave Champion, Eric Kaert, Rhonny Lugoma, Omer Mohammad, Riley Tansem, Brandley Payne Missing: Mr. D. Jensen (Coach)

This year's Jr. Men's Basketball team completed a mission that was five years in the making. After going undefeated in league play, out scoring their opponents on an average of 93-45, and winning four of the six tournaments they played, the Titans were ready for the playoffs. The Titans defeated WP Wagner in the Semi final 61-33 and then defeated the Ross Shephard T-Birds 85-51 in the City Championships. The team finished the season 31-3, with two of those losses coming against senior teams in Vancouver, and the other against Western Canada High School from Calgary in the JP REB final by one point. The boys avenged that loss by defeating that same team in the Tri-Prov Final by 17 points. Mr. Riar, Mr. Pashak and Mr. Jensen truly appreciate the effort and dedication shown by these 14 young men.

Curling

The Harry Ainlay Curling Club was resurrected this year after a lengthy hiatus. With 19 members, the club challenged opponents in intramural competitions, where new curlers learned the game and experienced players honed their skills. Curlers at all levels took part in a high school Bonspiel and walked away with a gold medal. February brought serious competition as all teams sought to win games, whether competitively or non-competitively. Club members had a great time and went undefeated until the finals in the Edmonton Zone Championship, where they were awarded silver medals.

Swim Team

The Harry Ainlay Swim team made its return after a year hiatus due to pool renovations at Confederation pool. The Swim team was Ainlay's largest team with 110 enthusiastic members who trained hard all season. Coaches Caitlin and Sandy did an outstanding job preparing the athletes for the city finals. Many of our athletes placed in the top 5 for their events. The following athletes were gold medalists at cities: Katerina Symes, Tina Liang, Jim Phelan, and Justin Kautz.

Senior Women's Soccer

The senior women's soccer team was third in league play. Stacey Howell led the team in goals; Mandy Nakrayko and Stacey dominated in the challenging position of central midfield, demonstrating excellent field vision and leadership. With a strong defensive line led by Devyn Rossiter at the sweeper position, other teams had difficulty offensively. Despite the solid performance in league play, the girls lost a close battle in a shoot out in the quarter-final game. With many returning players and new talent coming to Ainlay, the team looks forward to vying for the title next year.

City Champions!

The season in a nutshell: this year's team was unbelievable. The team played with all their heart. This was evident throughout the season as they arrived at the finals undefeated—a first for Harry Ainlay! The team ended up playing M.E.Lazarte in the final, and what a final it was. Twenty minutes into the second half, the score was tied 1-1; Lazarte scored again with about 15 minutes left in the game. The Lazarte coach yelled out "Now it's over," and before he had even finished his sentence, Ainlay scored again! What a game! The final eventually turning out 3-2; the team went undefeated all the way to the city champion title, maintaining their composure to the final whistle. Congratulations, team!

City Champions!

Rugby

The Harry Ainlay Rugby program had an exciting year filled with opportunity and fun. Both teams attended the Ross Sheppard tournament and the Women's program attended the Pirates Rugby 7's. All in all it was a good year for rugby at Harry Ainlay. By the end of it all, the Senior Men and Senior Women both lost out in the semi-finals of their respective tiers. We all look forward to next season!

2005 saw excellent performances by the group of forty Titans that represented Ainlay at the City Championships on May 28 at Rollie Miles Athletic Park. Daniel Rawson won the Senior Boys' long jump with his final attempt; Courtney Smith won both the Junior Girls' 100m and 200m, and Matt Cardoza won the Junior Boys High Jump. 18 athletes went on to compete at Provincials on June 3rd and 4th at Foote Field, where there were strong performances from Matt Cardoza, who took gold in high jump, and from both the junior boys' (Cardoza, Rayment-Law, Kaert, Lugoma) and girls' (Smith, Auch, Dochuk, Walsh) 4x100m relay team, who also won gold medals. Thanks to all the athletes that were a part of this year's success story! Ainlay bids goodbye to all the senior athletes and wishes them all success in their post-secondary track & field careers.

- Mr. Powell

CTS Curricular

Career and Technology Studies courses emphasize learning through practical, hands-on experiences. All of the courses are based on career areas and provide students with an insight into particular fields of work. The CTS programs offered this year were: Mechanics, Communication Technology, Construction Technology, Cosmetology, Design Studies, Fashion Studies, Foods, Fabrication Metals, Desktop Publishing, Web Design, and Computer Programming. Displays around the school were filled with samples of student projects made in CTS classes. It is amazing how quickly students develop the skills to create such things as metal sculptures, furniture, dresses, cakes and engine overhauls, to name a few examples. Not only did the students apply theory learned in other classes, they used this knowledge to create projects they were truly proud of. In the end it was a fun way to learn and to see the tangible results of their learning.

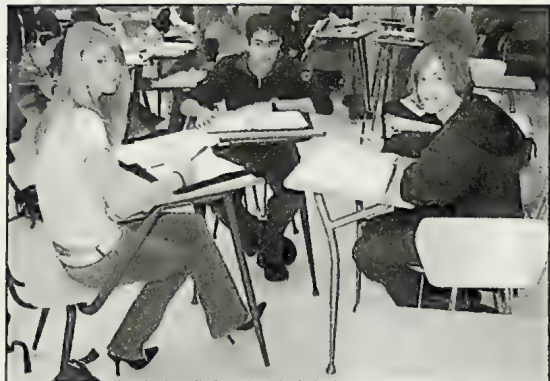

International Baccalaureate

The International Baccalaureate program at Harry Ainlay is one of the largest and most successful IB programs in Canada with over 600 pre-IB and IB students. International Baccalaureate is a program that challenges highly motivated students to develop critical thinking skills that will help prepare them for academic studies at University. Students who complete IB courses can earn advanced University credit and placement for the work that they have done at high school. Students value the dynamic classroom environment, individual instruction, challenging curriculum, dedicated teachers, and most of all, the opportunity to develop time-management, self-confidence, and leadership skills. Some of our IB students choose to earn the full IB Diploma by completing six rigorous courses, in addition to a 4000 word extended essay, completion of a Theory of Knowledge course, and at least 150 CAS (Community, Action, Service) hours in grade 11 and 12. This helps to create students that are well rounded and who can engage themselves in the world beyond the textbook. IB students are service-minded students that often take up important causes like our school's anti-landmines initiative, which raised money to help clear landmines and help the victims of landmines. High academic achievement, along with service to the community, has helped many of our IB students to earn scholarships for post-secondary study. 673 students Harry Ainlay students have graduated with the full IB diploma since our first IB class graduated in 1984, and 60 more students are attempting to join their ranks this year. In addition, this year 123 partial IB students will write IB certificates in at least one of our courses which include: English, History, Japanese, German, French, Math, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Art, Theatre Arts, and Music.

Core Subjects

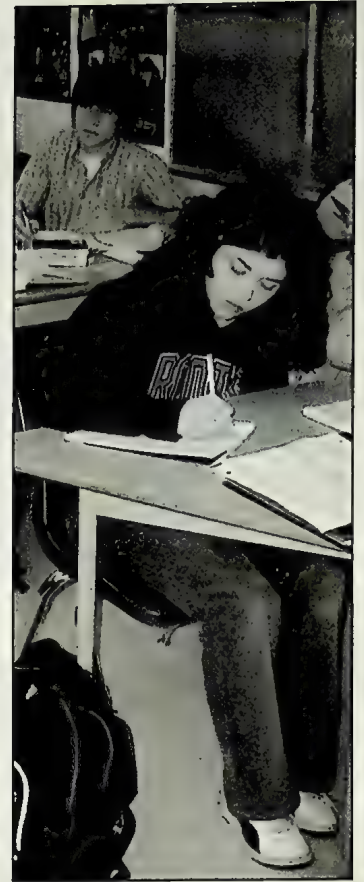

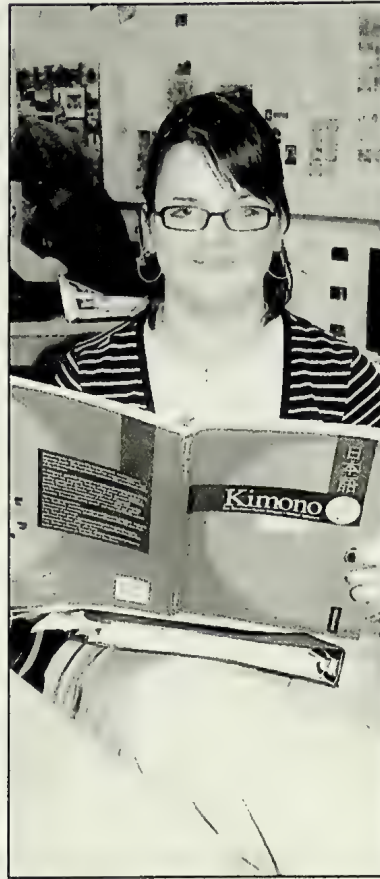

The core subjects-English, Mathematics, Social Studies and the Sciences-have curriculums designed to cover the broad spectrum of human knowledge. At first glance, quadratic equations and Macbeth seem about as complementary as ice cream and anchovies; however, the beauty of the system is that each subject group teaches students to think in a slightly different way. As we move through each period, therefore, we are not only learning supposedly valuable "life skills" like the square of 256 and the melting point of magnesium, but how to criticize, analyze, and hypothesize in ways that will eventually mold us into multi-faceted, reasoning adults.

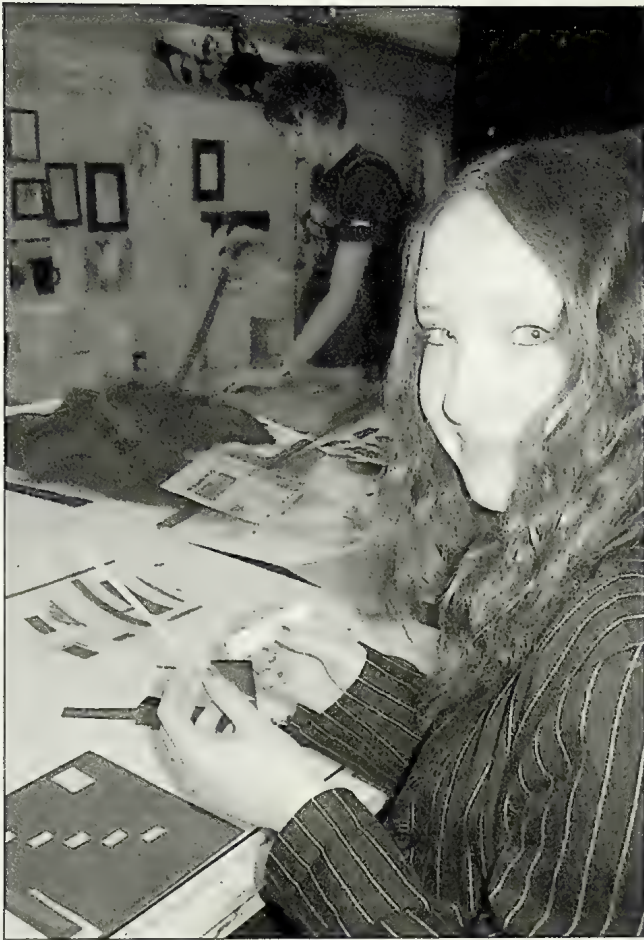

Second languages

The International Languages department at Ainlay offers second language instructions in French, German, Japanese, and Spanish as well as French Language Arts. Through these instructions, students increase their intellectual capacity and learn new ways to communicate with people around the world. Students not only gain spoken/written communication skills, but also enhance their understanding of respective peoples and their cultures. Each program provides the students with numerous opportunities to experience authentic cultures through daily instructions, field trips, festivals and exchange programs. It is fun to learn a new language!

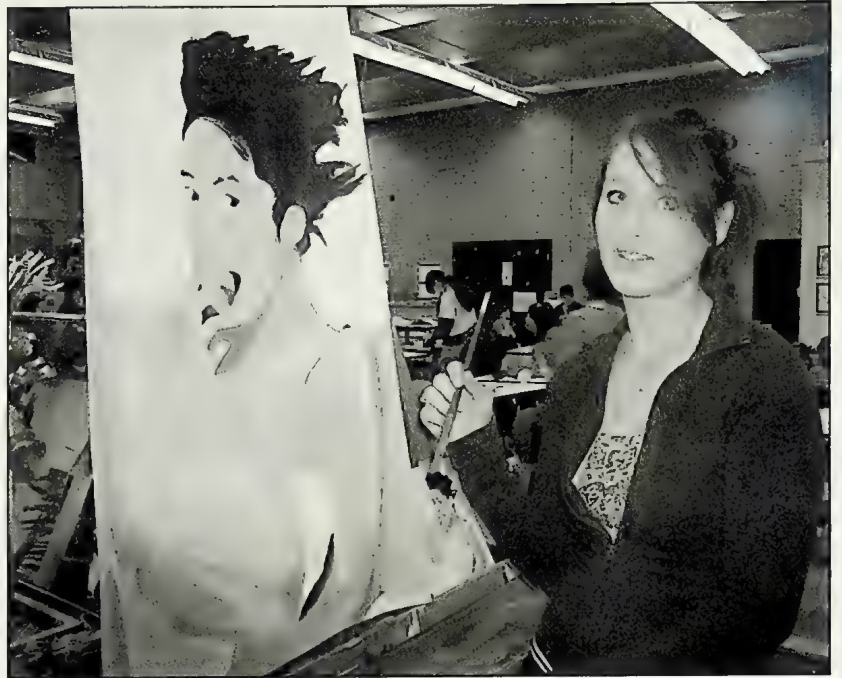

Art Program

"The basic task in the creative process is to bring together, in some useful fashion, ideas which are usually remote from each other."
- S.A. Mednick

Music Program

The 2004-2005 school year was an event-packed season for the Ainlay Music Department. The year started off with 200 students heading out to Camp Nakamun in early October for their annual Music Retreat. A great deal was accomplished musically at the camp and many new friendships were made. Several students represented the Ainlay Music Program as members of the Provincial Honor Band at the Alberta Music Conference in early November. The first concerts of the year were held at the end of November, playing to standing room only audiences in the school theatre. In February, the jazz groups provided the music for our 24th annual Big Band Bash. Both Jazz Bands, Concert Band and Symphonic Band participated in the Alberta International Band Festival and received very high ratings. Symphonic Band was chosen as the Most Outstanding High School Concert Band in the festival. School concerts in March were augmented by the annual EPS Night of Music, this year held at the Winspear. Many students represented Ainlay in both the Senior High Honor Choir and the Senior High Honor Band. Open House provided an excellent opportunity to showcase the Jazz groups that we have at Ainlay. In mid-April this year, the Concert Band and Choir participated in a five day tour to a music festival held at Sun Peaks Resort in British Columbia. Final concerts were held in June with the jazz coffee house in the school cafeteria and the Winds at the Winspear concert in the Winspear Center. Symphonic Band's year was a long way from over as their tour this year departed Edmonton on June 29th and performed a week of concerts in Germany and then represented Canada at a festival in Italy for the second week of their tour. The ensemble received rave reviews in all of their concerts and a great time was had by all. Many thanks to all of the students in the program for a great year and to the parents who volunteered in many capacities throughout the year.

EVENTS

OktoberFest

Our third annual Oktoberfest on Thursday, October 7th was again a great success. Thanks go out to all students, staff and members of our community for putting on a great show! Oktoberfest 2004 saw the return of live music: Gordon Schmitt and his accordion provided lively, authentic music to dance, sing and schunkel to. We were delighted to see many people dress up for the event and participate in our first-ever costume contest. Taste buds were tantalized by an array of authentic foods like sausages, pretzels, and Black Forest cake. Not only did we appeal to the senses, but also the intellect. Visitors were able to learn much about German culture and history through our displays in the cafeteria. Intellects were then put to the test in our German Jeopardy contest. Thanks also go out to the Alpenspatzen and the Bavarian Schuhplattler of Edmonton for their wonderful performances of Alpine folk dancing. Herr (Mr.) Huellstrung, the German teacher, showed he can still shake a leg as he danced with his former group, the Schuhplattler. Hope to see you at the next Oktoberfest!

Titan Volleyball Tournament Celebrates 25th Anniversary

TVT 2004, the 25th anniversary, was a tremendous success! Opening ceremonies were spectacular, featuring a crowd-pumping tae kwon doe show, some incredible liquid popping-and-locking, our senior women's team doing a dance, and our senior men's team taking us back to the styles of Grease. This year, the competition included two teams from Texas, USA. Our senior women finished 4th after a tough bronze medal match, while the senior men finished 8th place overall after a disappointing weekend. The Junior Women's and Men's teams both fought hard battles on the court to finish in first place and receive the gold medals. A big thank you to all of the volunteers who put so much time and effort into making the 25th anniversary of TVT so special!

TVT 2004 XXV

Faster, Higher, Stronger

Terror of the Titans

Titans truly outdid themselves this year as several amazing groups of teenagers dressed up as everything from B*Witched to the Bananas in Pajamas to sparkly fairies. The halls were swarming with an eclectic mix of mummies, Snow Whites, most of the dwarfs, Incredible Hulks, pirates, and 3 escaped convicts. The week consisted of a pumpkin carving contest, an awe-inspiring costume contest and the "thrilling" performances on stage. The multiple personalities of Titans are all too alive and scary!

Aloha Ainlay

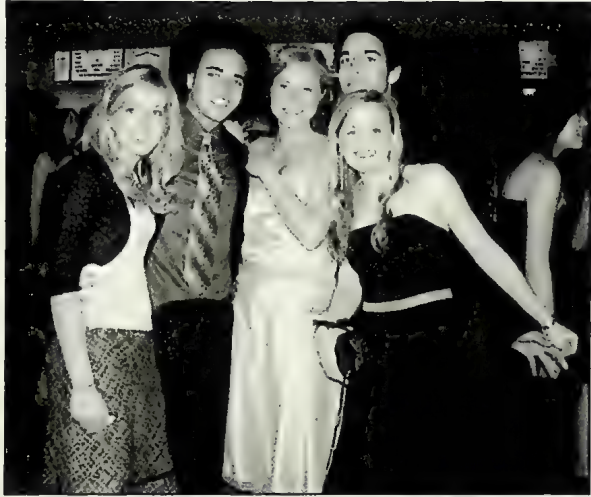

*A*loha Ainlay 2005 was extra special as all the Titans gathered in the rotunda at lunch to support the tsunami crisis. Several hundred dollars was raised as cool refreshments were sold at the Tiki bar. As Students' Union brought warm Hawaiian weather to the cold January day, students dressed up in their Hawaiian best and had "fun in the sun."

A Touch of Class & Video Dance

This year's theme was "An Evening in Paris" complete with an Eiffel tower and other tasteful decorations. Our school's Jazz Band musicians played a medley of lively tunes throughout the day. For this special event, sophisticated young men and women wearing gowns, high heels, tuxes and suits replaced students wearing hoodies, sneakers and t-shirts. The end of the day was capped off with a sold out Much Music Video Dance. Without question Titans truly do have a "Touch of Class."

Skills Canada

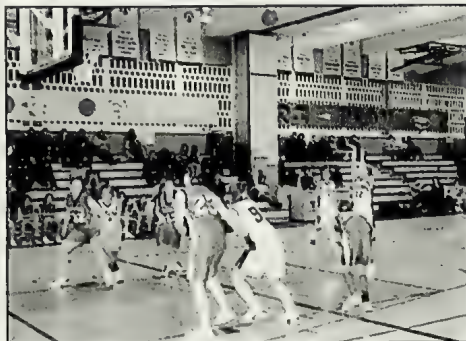

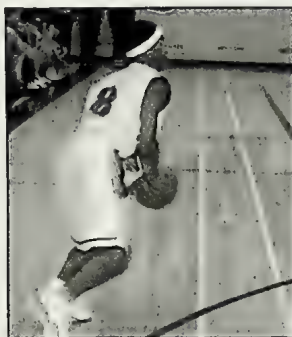

Skills Canada is a competition held at both the provincial and national levels in trade related skill areas. This year over 650 students from across Alberta competed on June 1st and 2nd at the Northlands Agricom. Twenty-one Ainlay students competed in 14 CTS fields such as Auto Service, Culinary Arts, Hairstyling and Women's Apparel, to name a few. The students rose to the challenge, competing in events which lasted up to 14 hours. This event gave students an opportunity to experience the competitive nature of the world of work. This year's competitors were Chris Fisher, Angelika Saueracker, Katie Robinson, Andrew Munro, Steven Brochu, Scott Read, Devon Goodall, Byron Martin, Zachary Dubar, Joanna Stachnik, Lana Farell, Christine Park, Jessica Van Nispen, Jeannine Guérette, Rabeea Naseem, Tyler Butler, Conrad Johnson, Michael Henderson, Chelsea Martin, Jackie Clegg and Anna Kravchinsky.

Japan Spring Trip

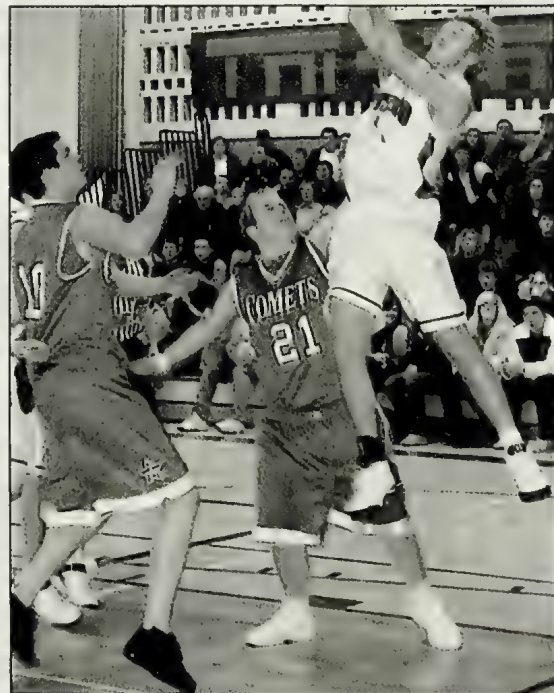

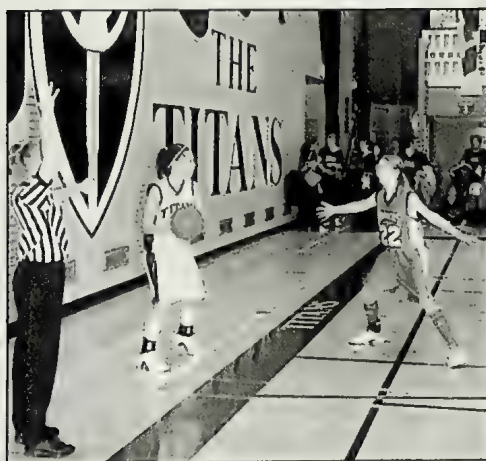

19 Ainlay students participated in a 10-day Japan Trip from March 23 to April 1. They visited Tokyo, Hiroshima, Miya-jima, Kyoto and Osaka traveling by the Shinkansen bullet-train. All participants were hosted by Japanese families and enjoyed a Japanese immersion experience. Thank you, Titans, for supporting the 1000 crane campaign prior to their departure. The campaign completed successfully when the participants delivered the cranes to the statue of Sadako in Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park. The trip was a great success and we now look forward to the 2006 trip!

TRI PROV 2005- The Reign of Power

The 31st Tri Provincial Basketball tournament started off with an exciting weekend of junior team play. Our Ainlay girls had a heartbreaking loss against Western Canada. However, our junior boys avenged that, defeating Western Canada and taking the gold. The senior tournament took off with an exciting Opening Ceremonies hosted by The Big Breakfast's Mark and Bridget. Karla Karch, our honorary chairperson, threw the official jump ball that started the fast paced and exciting senior tournament weekend. The Lord Beaverbrook senior men defeated Ross Shepard in an intense and exciting game. Our Ainlay women grabbed the gold against Mount Baker with a close score of 71-68. Andrea Ruste took the Most Valuable Player Award of the tournament and the All-Star for our senior men was John Goodkey. Wrapping up the tournament was the Junior High tournament; the girls from Vernon Barford took home the gold, while the Riverbend boys were victorious against Avalon. Each weekend showed high athleticism and competition with good sportsmanship. Congratulations to the staff and student volunteers for a their hard work paying off for a very successful tournament.

Culture Fest

This year, Ainlay's own celebration of the cultural diversity of our school and community was especially memorable for the crowd-pleasing performances and vibrant fashion show. Students enjoyed gastronomic delicacies from around the world and many competed in a cultural trivia contest. It seemed like more students than ever before sported traditional ethnic costumes on the school-wide dress up day. Mutual respect and appreciation have never looked this good! Many thanks to the executive committee and sponsors for their hard work and generosity.

CTS Week

During the week of March 14th the Career and Technology (CTS) department rolled out a week of activities that showcased the diversity of its programs. Activities included cookie decorating, hair and nail design, video productions and pit crew tire changing. It was an action-packed week.

Gala Français

The Gala Français presents a unique opportunity for students in our district from Grades 1 to 12, beginner to proficient, to come together to share what they are learning and observe the extent of English/French bilingualism in our society. Student presentations, both competitive and non-competitive, featured students competing individually or in groups. All participants received ribbons and in the adjudicated categories, students placing first, second and third received special recognition. The Gala is attended by approximately 1,500 people including 590 student participants from 26 schools, their parents and guests, 70 judges from the Francophone and Anglophone business and arts communities, government representatives and numerous Gala volunteers.

I.B. Artshow

The Annual Art 30IB Show, held on the evening of Friday, April 22, was a huge success. Hundreds of people attended, enjoying the great food and artwork produced by this year's dynamic and diverse group.

Battle of the Bands

Battle of the Bands is a competition where groups of like-minded teens get together to "wow" the masses and get a chance to play at Red's among many other perks. With 11 bands this year, the evening was full of music and fans. The favoured band, Shots, consisting of Sean Steals, Mark Taylor, Bruce Pelland, and Jason Laser, won by a substantial amount of votes. The runners up, The Funk Messengers, Chris Finlay, Andy Burke, Efa Eteroma, and Brady Mosik, were also clear in their popularity. Both bands get free studio time, but only Shots will get a CD pressing and the personal profits from all the tickets they can sell to their show at Red's. A powerful evening and all the best to next year's musicians.

Blood Donor Clinic

Harry Ainlay High School held it's annual Canadian Blood Services Blood Donor Clinic on April 26, 2005. The Clinic was such a success (appointments were booked in only two days) that the Canadian Blood Services' Life Bus took 16 students to the Edmonton Blood Centre on April 28 and 29. Harry Ainlay first time donors were responsible for donating approximately 80 units of blood and potentially saving three times that many lives! Hopefully, many of these students will go on to be lifelong donors! Way to go students!

30-Hour Famine

*H*unger "bites. Bite Back." This is the motto of WorldVision, a charitable organization that works in third world countries. In March of 2005, its message encouraged 40 Ainlay students to stop eating for 30 hours in order to raise money for areas struck by the December 2004 Tsunami, and other third-world countries. Organized by students Kavina Mistry, Jacalyn Ambler and Shalane Spurrell, the overnight event was tons of fun and a tremendous bonding experience while raising $2400 for charity-enough to feed 7 children for an entire year. Thanks to Ms. Baker, Ms. Hudec, Mr. Walker, Ms. Schwartz, and Ms. Denholm, the adult supervisors who made this event possible, and kudos to the volunteers, who showed true Titan spirit-way to go!

IB Europe Trip

Spending spring break in Europe was awesome! Titans traveled through Germany, Austria, and France in the course of twelve days, touring sites such as the Dachau concentration camp, Deutsches Museum, Alte Pinakothek, Verdun, the Arc de Triomphe, Notre Dame Cathedral, the Louvre, Reims, Campagne Cellar, Versailles, and Charte. A high point was seeing Paris from the top of the Eiffel tower-at night! There was so much to see in such a short period of time that all in attendance gained something from the experience; it was especially interesting for the trip's mostly unilingual English-speaking participants to be exposed to native French and German. This trip, among other things, provided the opportunity to see a lot of history in a short period of time, making the 2005 Europe trip an especially profound experience.

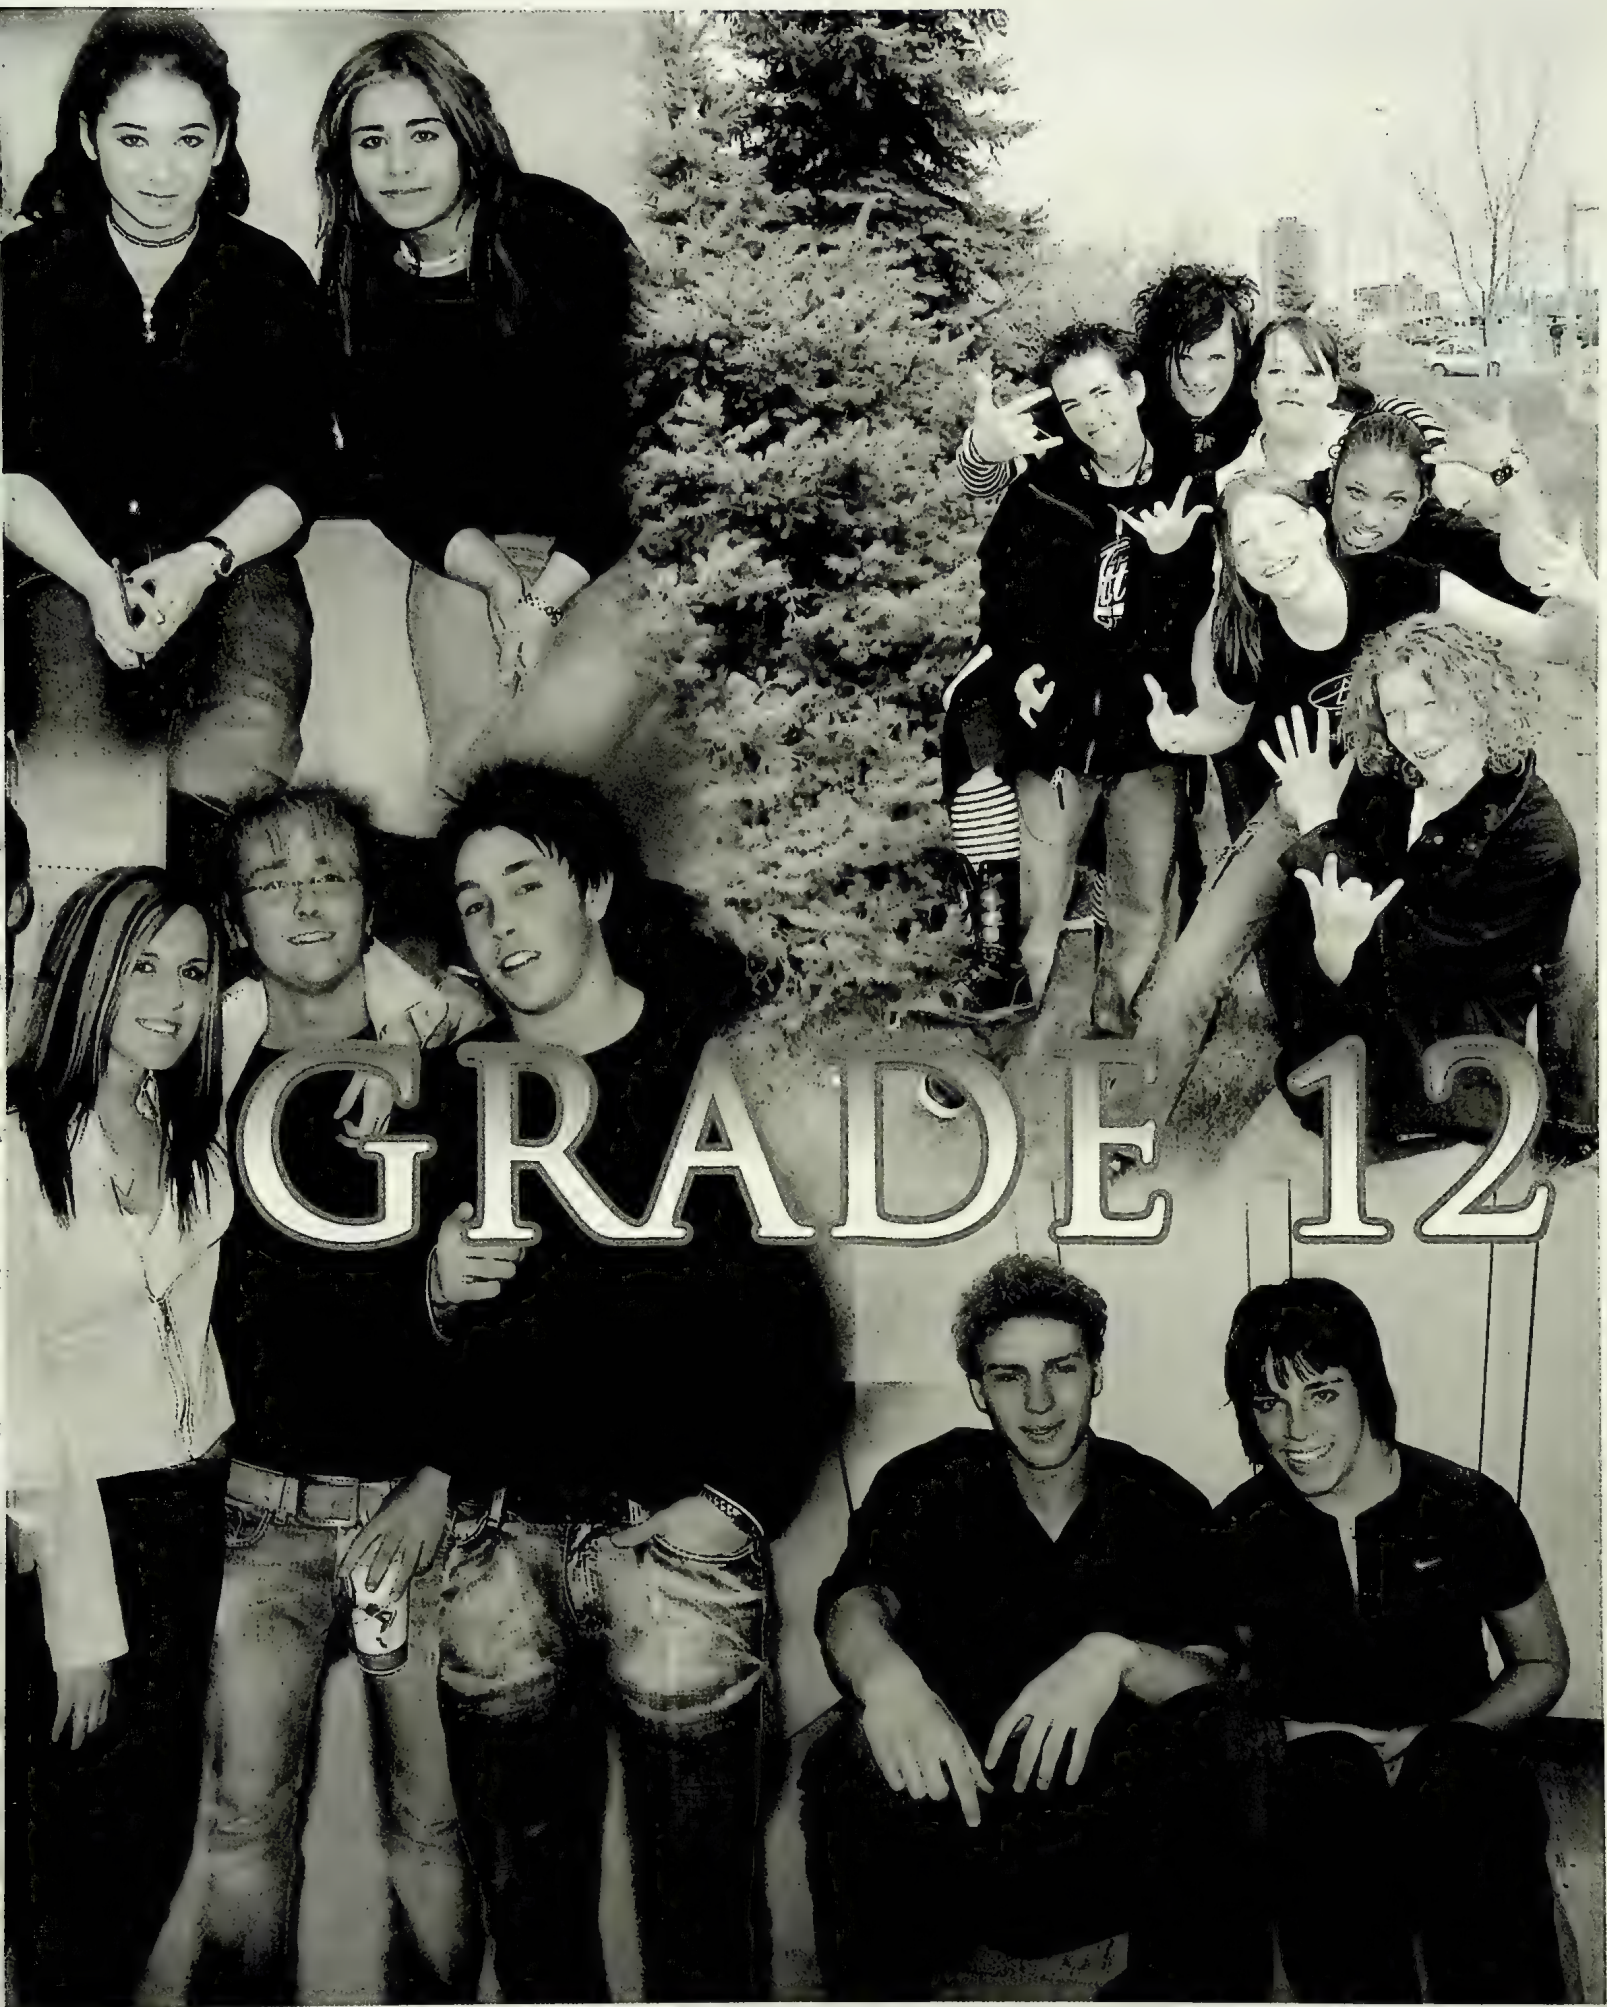

Cuts for Cancer

April 27th saw numerous student volunteers, as well as teachers Mr. Lavold, Mr. Luchkow, Mr. Hignell, and Mr. Jenkins, taking on crazy new looks to raise money benefiting the Cross Cancer Institute. In the weeks before hand, Ainlay students took to the streets to gather donations; in the rotunda on the big day, cosmetology students took razors to heads and raised $20 000- a Edmonton Public School record! Congratulations and thanks to all involved!

GRADUATION

Grad Fashion Show

This year's Grad Fashion Show and Gala was a huge success, raising approximately $2500 for Grad! All our models and volunteers worked hard preparing for the big night, and it paid off with a night of great fun and entertainment. The Fashion Show and Gala packed the gym with great food, a silent auction, a "Grad Marketplace", and an amazing display of this year's latest fashions from Southgate Shopping Centre and Derk's Formals up on the catwalk. Everyone involved had a great time. The 2005 Grad Fashion Show and Gala was a great success and a night to remember filled with fashion, fun, and elegance!

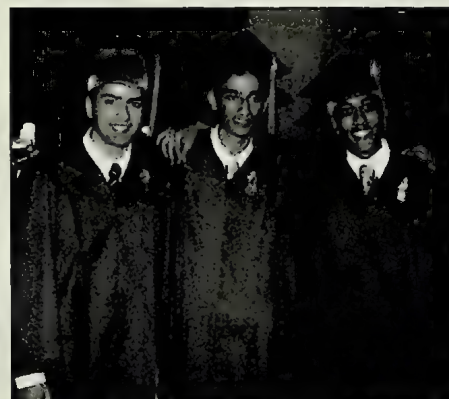

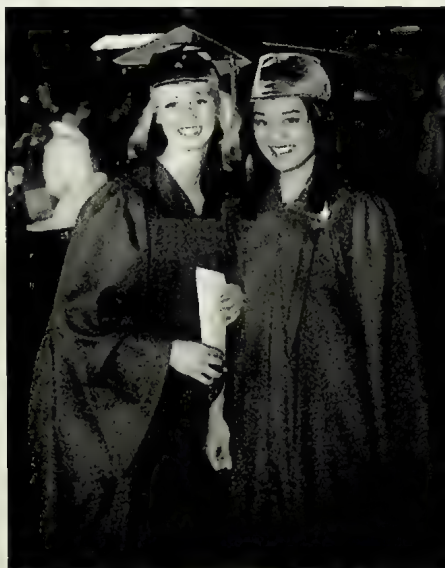

Graduation Commencement

The Graduating Class of 2005 celebrated 12 years of school by honouring fellow students and retiring staff, at this year's Commencement and Awards Ceremonies at the Shaw Conference Centre on May 25th, 2005. The theme, "Something More" and the Grad Song, "Faith of the Heart" by Rod Stewart, gave grads an amazing evening that they will remember for years to come. The performances by our talented students kept everyone in awe, and our Guest Speaker, Superintendent McBeath, as well as our valedictorian, Timothy Yau, blew our audience away with their inspirational words. Thank you to everyone for a memorable night, and good luck in your future endeavors!

- Megan Brubaker & Roman Soltykevych, Commencement Co-Chairpersons

Graduation Banquet

George Bernard Shaw once said, "you see things and say, 'why?'; I dream things that never were and say, 'why not?'" For many of us, the evening of May 28th, 2005 was an ethereal experience- a dream that suddenly- almost spontaneously- became a reality.

"I didn't think this moment would EVER materialize!" exclaimed *Mary Sue, an incredulous Harry Ainlay graduate. Enthralled, and dressed to [amaze], she spun around, drinking in the beautiful gold, black, and red masquerade decorations. "This is the night of my dreams!"

"And you're the girl of mine," her equally mesmerized date murmured gently under his spearmint breath. Okay, so maybe I didn't actually eavesdrop on this tender, unassuming, slightly cliché but near-perfect moment of a couple's much anticipated Grad night but I certainly was privileged (and I mean that in the true sense of the word) with the responsibility of chairing and hosting the evening's Banquet.

No matter how objective I have tried to be, I keep coming to the same conclusion: everything- and more importantly, everyone- looked absolutely amazing. The energy emanating from Halls B and C of the Shaw Conference Centre on the evening of May 28th was one crammed with excitement, accomplishment, remembrance, and joy. Attended by 2200 people, the 2005 Banquet transpired nearly seamlessly. The audience was touched by an evening of heartfelt speeches and musical performances, and satiated by an excellent meal. Roman and his father, Mr. Soltykevych humorously and poignantly presented the Toast to the Parents and reply; Serena and Mr. Liguori worked together to recognize the efforts of the incredible Harry Ainlay staff; and Nithya Ramachandran eloquently gave the Blessing before the evening's meal. The hall resounded with three stunning displays of artistic abilities including a harp performance by Lana Farrell; Kennedy Miller's lovely rendition of Bette Midler's "Wind Beneath My Wings;" and Johannes Brahms' "Hungarian Dance in G Minor" performed beautifully as a piano duet by Serena Cheung and Raymond Yan.

The evening concluded with Kavina Mistry presenting the Graduating Class of 2005's gift to the school and community: a commitment to the beautification of the northeast courtyard at Harry Ainlay, and the devotion of any surplus finances to the Edmonton Youth Emergency Shelter.

After acknowledging Ms. Stevens for her invaluable work as the Banquet Advisor, and Mr. Ramsankar for his wonderful work as one of our Grad advisors and the pioneer of our Graduation Picture Memories Keepsake CD,

Ms. Baker was finally recognized for all of her incredible and inestimable- albeit behind the scenes- work that she contributed to Grad.

The evening wrapped up with sons and mothers or fathers and daughters sharing the first dance to Elton John's "Your Song." As I looked over the shoulder of my father, a priceless rock and protector through all my years thus far, I saw my classmates partaking in the same, heartfelt dances with their parents. I saw joy. I saw excitement. I saw young men and women completely at peace and ease with the thoughts of tumultuous adolescent pasts and the prospects of beautifully uncertain futures. I saw all of us twenty five years from now, sharing the same dance with our children; wanting the same things for them as our parents, our teachers, our friends want for us: something more. I saw beyond.

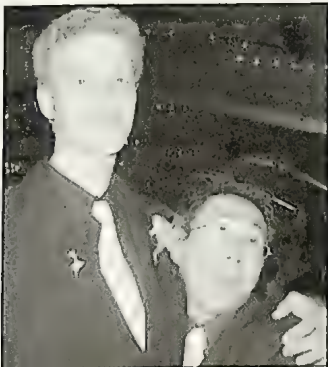

Thank you to the performers, the toasters, the staff, the advisors, the families, the friends- everyone who helped conceive this Banquet and all those who attended. Thank you to my classmates. Thank existence.

I hope that when, in the future, we are asked if it is possible to have something more in life, we can most definitely, most assuredly proclaim, "WHY NOT?!"

- Katrina Kully-Martens,
Banquet Chairperson

Graduation Committee

Over the course of this year, the 2005 Graduation Committee has worked tirelessly to organize this year's extraordinary Graduation events. They have spent countless hours planning and carrying out their duties beyond expectations and they have set new standards in all areas of Harry Ainlay Graduation. Thank you to all the students on the Graduation Committee who worked so very hard to create these memorable and outstanding events. Thank to the Staff Advisors who devoted their time and efforts, for without their guidance and assistance, these events could not continue to happen year after year. What a spectacular way to celebrate the end of high school! Congratulations to you all!

Grad President's Address

Time is a blind guide: Time propels us forward, pulls us back, lets us rest for a moment or two. Time on the clock has run and we have kept up. We have striven and pushed, burned the midnight oil, yearned, learned and succeeded. Of our accomplishments past, we should be proud; in our aspirations, we should be ambitious. Our experiences in high school have embedded themselves into our being; they are an important layer of the person that we will become. Without the guidance, wisdom and support of our family, teachers and friends, we would have crumbled under the adversity of life. They have helped us build the strong foundations we require to flourish and we are forever thankful for their influence on our lives. Time is not ours to control, yet it is ours to ply; we have the ability to mould and shape our individual futures. Our choices, achievements, struggles and triumphs are truly something. Our energy and success are pushing open the doors into the unknown and mysterious future before us. As we leave high school behind and embark on new, intriguing adventures, we must set out with the knowledge that we can accomplish great things. May we strive into that future with the dream of achieving something more- something more innovative, creative, or revolutionary; something more spectacular. May we lift off our masks and reveal the true person that lies beneath; may we shed the obstacles that hold us back, that cloak us, and all that which we fear. May we exceed all expectations and leave our legacy in every place we touch constantly appreciating what we have, yet always striving for "Something More".

It is my pleasure to congratulate the class of 2005!

- Justine Melnychuk,
Graduation President

Principal's Message

Good Evening Ladies and Gentlemen, honoured guests, families and members of Harry Ainlay's graduating class of 2005.

It is indeed a great honour to be with you tonight as we celebrate the graduating class of 2005. This is a time of great joy and sadness. Joy in the success that you as graduands have achieved, and sadness in the fact that we must now say good-bye and send you on your way into the world.

As I prepared for this speech, I found myself thinking about education and the enrichment that it brings to all of our lives. Herbert Spencer once said, "Education has for its object the formation of character." We may even say that education can be the key to success or failure in our world of today. As such, we must be compelled to pay more attention to the kind of education that exists. The intellectual growth of future generations is in the hands of our school system. Our students are future voters, politicians and leaders. Does it frighten you at all when you stop a moment to consider that reality? We, now, are all responsible for our future world.

Education is as old as man himself. We have the ability to pass knowledge on and must use it for the advancement of the world in which our children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of generations to come will live. Admittedly, our lives of today are much more complicated. As such, it is necessary that we have a more complex system of education.

We seem to have hit the peak of complexity in Canada today. Formal education may occupy as much as one-third of our lives, and this figure most likely will increase as the complexity of our society continues to do so. Today, an undergraduate degree or technical diploma is gradually losing its importance, and in more and more fields, further credentials are often required.

Many different theories abound concerning our education system. Some educators feel that an education's duty is to instil traditional values in our young. Some feel that educational guidance should give our youth the ability to develop new ideas. Some say that the main purpose of education is to instruct in personal happiness or the skills which are valuable in earning a living. And, still others have the theory that the pursuit of knowledge for its own sake is the main reason for education. Ezra Pound said, "Real education must ultimately be limited to men who insist on knowing, the rest is mere shepherding."

Most likely, all of these theories will sometime or other enter in to the real purpose of education. But we will all probably agree that the well-educated person is not just a storehouse of facts and figures, but an informed and conscientious person capable of thinking for him or herself.

It is our duty as educators to furnish a foundation for intellectual growth for all young people.

As early as our elementary grades, our school system tries to offer courses which will develop not only the child's individuality but also their ability to be well-rounded people. Some are strongly opposed to this school of thought.

They have the theory that at just the time when our world is becoming more technical and specialized, we shouldn't offer non-specialized courses to our students. They say we need expert scientists, chemists, doctors, etc. And, they believe, to achieve expertise, we must use all our years of education in developing these specialized subjects. They fail to see the importance of an engineer knowing something of art and music.

These theorists seem to have forgotten that, in the end, we are all people. Even if and when "Technology" takes over our world, people still exist to communicate, adjust and try to understand each other. No matter how many changes are made in mankind's society through the years, one thing will definately remain; and that is people. And people have to talk and communicate with each other. How boring it would be to listen to someone constantly speaking about only medicine or law or any other subject, for that matter. As long as man is not completely self-sufficient, he will be forced to show some consideration for those around him. Since our individual occupations are not our whole lives, the specialized theory simply has to fail. People remain social animals. It is a basic instinct. We need transportation and food; we have to pay bills and vote. Not only our government, but also our whole family structure, would break down without well-balanced people. Imagine having a father, mother, husband or wife who is incapable of discussing the things you are most interested in.

The kind of education our children receive can be the key to their ability to succeed or fail in this world. Educational enrichment is much more important than any of us realize at this moment in time. It is my hope that this class we celebrate tonight has received such an education. I am confident, as we send you out into the world, that we will be proud of your future accomplishments.

Good luck and best wishes to each of you.

Thank you.

- Mr. Liguori

Message from the Board of Trustees

Good evening, graduands, parents, staff, friends and special guests.

It is my distinct pleasure to bring greetings on behalf of the board of trustees of Edmonton Public Schools to the Harry Ainlay graduates of 2005.

Your graduation theme, "Something More," is fitting for a number of reasons. I can assure you, your parents and teachers wanted something more for you; that is why they have invested time and energy in your education. It is now up to you to choose wisely regarding what you want "Something More" from in your respective lives. Thomas Mandelbaum, in his book The Ideas That Conquered The World, tells the story of a young girl who is eating dinner at a friend's house. Her friend's mother asks her if she likes brussel sprouts. "Yes, of course," the girl replies, "I like brussel sprouts." Mother then proceeds to give the young lady more sprouts on her plate. After dinner mother notices that the girl hasn't eaten a single sprout. "I thought you liked brussel sprouts," mother said. "I do," answered the girl, "but not enough to actually eat them." You must define with care and precision what you want more of in order to ensure you obtain what you actually want in life - unless you want more brussel sprouts. Your parents, your teachers and your friends have attempted to provide you with more than an academic experience during your high school years. School teams, clubs, student leadership opportunities and the fine and practical arts have provided you with more opportunities and have assisted you in developing strong character traits which will be of great value to you.

Your theme also describes the namesake of this school. Harry Ainlay, the man for whom your school is named, knew the meaning of "something more" and strove to achieve it. He explored a number of different careers. He was a carpenter, teacher, assistant principal, principal, alderman, and mayor.

In an age when many people would have settled for one career, he wanted more. A number of you have already been exploring this theme while in high school, through your involvement in clubs, on sports teams or by lending your time and talents to school events.

By doing this, I hope you have made your high school years mean something more than just assignments and tests.

United States Senator Orrin Hatch said, "there is good reason they call these ceremonies 'commencement exercises'.

Graduation is not the end; it is the beginning."

It is the beginning of your chance to do something more outside of high school. Many of you will be seeking further education from the university, college, or technical institute of your choice; others will be seeking more world experiences by travelling; some will do more for the world through volunteer work; and some of you will go directly into the world of work, and provide more taxes to our various levels of government. Although most of us complain about the necessity to pay taxes, we should remind ourselves that taxes are what we pay in order to ensure that we maintain a civil society in our city, our province and in our country.

Whatever path you choose to take, I hope your years at Harry Ainlay have served you well.

Author E. E. Cummings said,

"It takes courage to grow up and become who you really are."

You are embarking on a new phase of your life. One which allows you the freedom to explore who you are and who you want to be. You have been given the chance to let go of who you have been so you can begin to build who you want to become.

I encourage you to seize the opportunities that present themselves to you, walk through the doors that open for you and push open the ones that don't.

I hope the memories you have of your years at Ainlay have been happy ones and I pray you cherish them for a lifetime.

I want to leave you with George Bernard Shaw's admonition to all of us—"Always do right. This will please some of the people and astonish the rest."

Congratulations on your graduation and enjoy the rest of your evening.

Good Luck, Bonne Chance, and God Speed.

- Trustee Nicholson

Valedictorian Address

Good evening fellow graduands, teachers, parents, and honoured guests.

On this wonderful occasion we are gathered to reflect on our achievements of recent years, to recognize, appreciate, and honour those who have helped and guided us, and to celebrate the advent of an auspicious and exciting future.

When I consider the past three years spent at Harry Ainlay High School, my most dominant impression is that of the immense challenges and difficulties we have had to overcome, and the demands of an academic career of copious amount of time and effort we have endeavoured to satisfy. Doubtless, we have all at one time or another felt discouraged and sought to blame this institution called 'school.' Looking back, however, I believe that it has given us not only knowledge, skills, and awareness, but also the character qualities that will truly define our lives. Our struggles have thus been fruitful, for only through them do we learn perseverance, diligence, and humility. Tonight is a testament to our triumph of will over adversity and despair, and for this we can rightfully congratulate ourselves and each other.

The other endearing aspect of my high school experience has been the inspiring and supportive friendships that were developed. Perhaps these friendships have taught many of us, as was the case for me, to value and admire each person for who they are, to always seek their best interests, and also to grow in self-understanding. If there were one reason to want to extend the school term, most certainly it would be the opportunity to make new friendships while savouring the joys of old ones. We may never again encounter such a favourable opportunity, but what it has given us is sure to be cherished for a lifetime.

We cannot forget the other relationships that were equally important in sustaining us. In the midst of difficulties our friends may have provided much-needed encouragement and motivation, but our teachers and parents are the ones who faithfully watched over and guided us.

They are the giants who lifted us beyond what we alone could ever accomplish and set us on their shoulders. They have, in their wisdom, cast us from the nest, and though we may have resented this, we would otherwise have no future to speak of. Therefore, on behalf of the graduating class, I would like to express the deepest gratitude to our friends, who shared without reserve in both our joy and sorrow, to our families, for supplying our physical and emotional needs, and to our teachers, who have so selflessly laboured and cared for us. All these people deserve a special place in our hearts not only because of everything they have devoted to us, but also because of their acceptance even when iniquities made us unworthy. I am sure none of us would have made it here without them.

As we arrive on the threshold of a new world, the past decade of preparation opens up many doors. Through each one is a realm of abundant opportunities and fantastic possibilities of which we have yet but a glimpse. Let us not falter but continue to strive toward our goals in whatever vocation or career path we choose, for there is potential in each of us to contribute to and make a difference in the community, the nation, and the world. School has given us the diligence and capacity to overcome the greatest obstacles that lie in our way, as long as we work toward a righteous cause. The choice that confronts us now of where to place our next step reminds me of an analogy presented by a pastor whom I greatly respect. Suppose that life were a dollar coin. It would be worthless if kept to ourselves because it accomplishes nothing, so it must be spent. How can we make that dollar worthwhile?

The theme of this year's graduation is, Something More. All of us have been immeasurably blessed in many respects and are endowed with the potential to realize what we most desire. However, even if we should gain the world, we could not grasp this elusive "something." Society tries to convince us that happiness lies in the material – great wealth, possessions, and entertainment – to the point where we should believe exclusively in its power and dismiss the spiritual as a great fallacy. Yet the truth is that the things of this world are ephemeral and treacherous: one instant we may have everything, the next instant, nothing. For those who have spent their lives to buy such things, this is a lamentable end indeed. The only abundant, worthwhile, and fulfilling life is spent with an openness of spirit that stands in the truth, and is filled with compassion and love for those suffering needlessly, those who are desolate, living among us and in every nation of the world. It is spent feeding the hungry, giving water to the thirsty, and clothing the poor. Fundamentally, this is only a simple demand: that we devote ourselves to and delight in the joy of others, including our rivals, enemies, or those we consider unpleasant. If all these we carry out to the fullest extent, then the reward will live eternally in our hearts and the hearts of those we have touched.

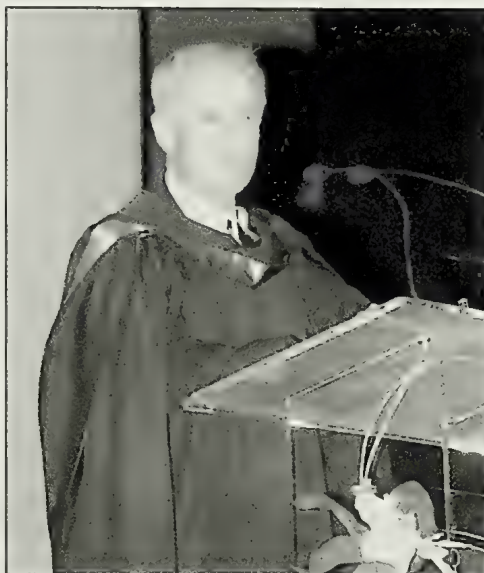

In closing, I would like to impart to my fellow graduands my wish for the greatest success in future endeavours, and my hope that we shall all set our minds upon the pursuit of a better humanity.

- Timothy Yau

Guest Speaker - Mr. McBeath

The speech will be over when everyone is focused and listening. I'm going to talk just to the graduands tonight, I would like the rest of you not to pay attention. Now, first of all, I want to congratulate all of the graduands who were here tonight who have completed high school because you're smart. Smart as you are, People Magazine is not here tonight covering this event though. So I want to congratulate you for being graduates because you have passed a major, major milestone in your life. You are now almost eligible to survive in a modern economy. I'm going to introduce you to a couple of things tonight that I want you to think about because they are like time bombs, eventually they're going to go off in your head and you're going to say that gray haired 57 year old might just know something. And I'm going to leave you with a few thoughts and you can decide whether or not any of it makes sense. Now #1. You have not done the world a favor by graduating tonight. You have done yourself a favor. #2 You owe us something. Last night when I got home about 10 o'clock the mail was waiting for me and it was a bill from Visa and a letter from the City of Edmonton. It had a look about it that worried me. It was called the 2005 Municipal Tax Bill. I opened it cause I wanted to get it over with and sure enough it had gone up and not only that but a large portion of it was being collected to support public education. I look forward to the day you join me as a fully-fledged tax payer in this city, this province and this country. That's your job and that's your duty and it's your responsibility and it's going to happen. The next thing I want you to think about is whether or not you are prepared to be a hero or heroine in your own story of your own life. Not everybody tonight will walk up here and win an award. Not everybody will walk up here tonight and have the best marks or be the fastest runner, or the best player or the most artistic person, but there shouldn't be a person in this crowd tonight who does not have within them ability to be a hero or heroine in their own life. Some of you may even surprise yourselves with the capacity you have within you for bravery, for strength, for truth, for endurance, for fulfillment, for bringing joy to others, for sacrifice. Some of you will be called upon to do hard things over time. And everyone of us is going to watch you and we might not remember that you won the biggest bronze, or silver or brass plaque at this awards ceremony but we will look at you for the rest of your lives and wonder whether you have within you the capacity to inspire us. Because that's your job: to inspire us to be good citizens, to inspire us to want to be in a better world, a better country, a better province, a better city. We have left you, we adults, with lots of hard, complex, difficult challenging work to do. And we have not found in our generation or time all the answers to complex questions. You may never get a gold medal for anything except, maybe living and living well and living honorably and living truthfully. If I had my way People Magazine would be here tonight because you are the stars tonight but I need to caution you that you have not done this all alone, you just think you have. If somebody had kept a tally of all the money spent on each one of you tonight, that figure would be approaching a million dollars a person. Between your parents, your family, the school system, the medical system, doctors and other services you have cost society and your family a great deal of money and you know that money was spent with love, with hope and with optimism that you would be the best generation ever to live on earth in one of the best countries in the world. With all of that love, support, service and dollars, though comes a huge responsibility. You are not graduating in a war torn country without railways and airports and medical systems. You have been born or you have moved to a very successful nation that requires complex thinkers, hard workers and good citizens. Your parents, your guardians, your family, your teachers and other staff have worked extremely hard to get you to where you are tonight. Pretty soon you will be on your own and you will be in charge of your own destiny and you will need to accept responsibility for your own mistakes and successes. You will become accountable citizens of this nation. I think you have everything that it takes to be the heroes and heroines of Harry Ainlay, of this city, of our province and of our country. I wish you well. I hope and pray you are indeed heroes for all time. Thank you for having me here tonight.

Final Thoughts Mr. K. Wright, Yearbook Advisor

I am truly amazed by the dedication, perseverance and talent of the yearbook students. They have contributed thousands of hours during lunch hours, after school and Friday evenings to meet the many submission deadlines. The goal of the yearbook is to create a book that captures the essence of the school year within 208 pages. With this goal in mind, yearbook students designed all of the pages and took the majority of the photographs. The editors did a tremendous job this year keeping the yearbook on schedule and striving to uphold the design standards they had set. It has been an honour to work with these talented students and to see their work on the yearbook take shape. I will miss all of the yearbook staff who are graduating and embarking on exciting new adventures. As the last page is being shipped off to the printer, the sun is shining, the wind is blowing and I am going sailing. Bon Voyage. - Mr. Wright

Editor's Note

Laurence Jayawardane - It's now over. After many hours of work and fun, all I can say is thank you to the Yearbook staff, all those Ainlay students who helped make this Yearbook. Pictures to accompany memories? Sounds great to me!

Jacalyn Ambler- Wow. From the pictures to the captions, every page in this yearbook tells a thousand stories! Countless hours and lots of caffeine have produced two things: an unforgettable time capsule, and a lot of great friendships! Thanks, you guys-it was an honour.

Arielle deJong - After many long hours hidden away in the Comtech room, the yearbook has finally come to an end, bringing with it my last days of high school. It has been an honour working with the staff and students of the Titan yearbook, and I will never forget the memories. My only regret is that it is coming to an end.

Retiring Staff

Mr. Cahoon

Mr. Cahoon has taught for 35 years, 22 years at Harry Ainlay. He received his M.S in Physics from Brigham Young University, and everyone knows that he lives and breathes his subject. Best of wishes, Mr. Cahoon!

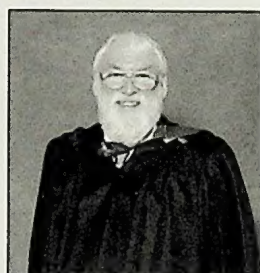

Ms. Deptuck

Ms. Deptuck has enriched the lives of Ainlay students for 25 years, teaching chemistry. She has inspired numerous students to pursue careers in science. All who know her have admiration for her many talents.

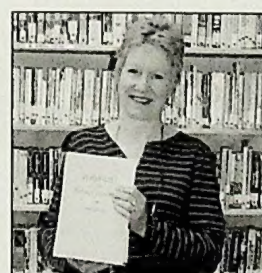

Ms. Pawluk

Ms. Pawluk has been teaching for 32 years. The past 20 years she has taught English and became Department Head in 2001. Her dedication is much admired by both the staff and students at Ainlay.

Mr. Agrell-Smith

Mr. Agrell-Smith has been teaching theatre for 29 unforgettable years at Ainlay. His teaching career has spanned 35 years. "Agrell" has become an Ainlay institution and will be sorely missed.

Ms. Glaicar

Ms. Glaicar has worked 6 years with Edmonton Public School's libraries. She previously worked and lived in the Northwest Territories. We wish her the best in her future endeavours.
